SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1864.

EDITORIAL TABLE.

Yesterday was the day appointed for receiving bids for the amortization of some 9 per cent. public funds. We doubt if there are ten men in Buenos Ayres who could tell with any degree of exactitude what particular class of funds these are, which are about to be amortized. Dr. Navarro has been informed on good authority that of the last two Ayres who could tell with any degree of exactitude what particular class of funds these are, which are about to be amortized. Dr. Navarro has been informed on good authority that of the last two Ayres who could tell with any degree of exactitude what particular class of funds these are, which are about to be amortized.

Major Johnson (who proposes most as an Irishman) we hear has defeated the Indians on the Santa Fe frontier: the gallant Major is in command of the National forces in that neighbourhood; his last encounter with the savages was peculiarly bloody if we are to believe reports.

Colonel Conesa is expected in town daily: it may be remembered that he left for some months past, to extend the frontier line some fifty leagues: the Government has not as yet notified the public with what success this enterprise was attended, but the Indians instead of being driven further back, are actually coming nearer and nearer to us daily. Col. Conesa we hear has a seat in Congress, and it is for this reason he is coming to town.

Mr. Peller's Album will come out next week, with the two beautiful engravings "the Portaña at Mass" and "the Asado." The latter will appear on the 21st. All lovers of Art will find the means of the other two additional attraction to the drawing-room by subscribing the moderate charge of 80 dots per month. At the end of the year they will have a more interesting collection than the files of an old newspaper.

We regret to learn that Mr. Drabble recently arrived, from England, fell from his horse on Thursday and sustained severe injuries. The occurrence is the more remarkable, as the société took place the night before.

We hear that Congress will be opened to-day, the requisite number of senators and deputies, to form a quorum, having at last arrived; we shall attend in order to give our readers an exact account of the inspiring ceremony.

We have received a rather severe reply to Sr. Santamaría's letter; our correspondent however makes a slight mistake in charging Sr. Santamaría with publishing his letter in English in the "Standard." We published ourselves without any request whatever from Mr. Santamaría so to do.

We are happy to hear that the Bank of Buenos Ayres is about to open a branch institution in Corrientes. It will be managed by an English gentleman, Mr. Lugoville, who went up to Corrientes for that purpose on last Sunday.

The Baron Maza we hear will leave Rio de Janeiro for England per next packet. We wish his Excellency a pleasant voyage and speedy return.

Captain Harrison of the new steamboat line has gone up to Higueritas to capture the place, and select the best spot for a coal deposit. We understand that the popular captain leaves for England per next mail.

A terrible fire occurred on Wednesday night at a baker's shop near the Barracas bridge: we understand that the baker was not insured, and has been reduced to beggary on account of his want of discretion.

Some parties, it is said, have superior information respecting the great San Juan Mines. A few days past we heard it stated that Mr. Rickard had offered to buy up for the Baron Maza all the shares held by San Juan stockholders. We are not in a position to confirm this report, but we regard it as rather ominous that the men in San Juan should be so willing to sell out. Some parties say that the machinery is all up, and that all the manager wants now is some ore to be able to relapse into the bright hopes which were once entertained of this company.

The "Nacion Argentina" also states that it is rumoured his Excellency Mr. Saavedra will shortly resign. Our colleague regards it as the best thing he could do under the circumstances, but throws out some doubt as to the legality of Sr. Riestra succeeding him. We opine, however, that Mr. Riestra is, if not strictly according to law, at least according to the spirit of the constitution, the just and proper person to fill the post of Governor.

The National Government has passed a very important decree respecting the Customs-house regulations and the Paraguayan steamers. These steamers carry our mails, free of charge, from port to port, and yet hitherto were harassed by the most unreasonable formalities. President Mitre very properly has interposed his authority: the decree in question will be published to-morrow.

Our anticipation proved correct as to Gov. Saavedra's second attempt in trying to open the Chamber. The Governor has behaved like a coward, and it will be necessary to unhinge the Constitution, ere the Crudos can get in. On Thursday the Governor and his posse comitatus went, with white gloves, but without military display, for it was feared the force would be repeated, there being no quorum without the Crudos.

Dr. Navarro is now quite convalescent, having recovered from a serious liver attack. The sooner he can resume his duties the better, for Argentine affairs are getting a bad name both in England and here. There is no doubt that Mr. Gonzalez has elastic national financial honesty, since the Government has no fixed idea respecting the necessity of burning the extraneous.

Our Congress will be short some of its members, for a couple of months. Sr. Taborda is at present engaged in a campaign against the Crudos, and who invaded Santiago. Dr. Diogenes Urquiza will not leave Entre Rios before July, being detained by local affairs.

The Western railway section to Villa Lujan will be inaugurated on the 23rd inst. There is a general rumour that Governor Saavedra must and will resign, but probably such an event will not take place before the above date. The engineers are surveying about Mercedes, and going to knock down two 'puertos' on Mr. N. Lowe's farm, Govt has not as yet notified the public with what success this enterprise was attended, but the Indians instead of being driven further back, are actually coming nearer and nearer to us daily.

Captain Bruce's contract for the steam service on the Paraná and La Plata concludes on the 15th inst. It will not be renewed, but we doubt that any new company will give such satisfaction as our enterprising countryman, who introduced a complete reformation in the river transit, and punctually fulfilled his contract. The public owe a debt of gratitude to Captain Bruce, the more so as the Government has treated him most unbecomingly.

On Thursday a lady gave birth to a son in one of the carriages of the North railway. On arriving at San Fernando it was found necessary to send into town for a lady in labour. Mother and child doing well. The youth ought to be named after Fulton, Watt or Huxton, or who receive the subsidio of locomotive; as he is the first son in Buenos Ayres under such circumstances, the Northern Company should give him a free ticket for life.

Great improvements are being made in the Plaza Central: this once neglected locality is now being paved and ornamented; the North end will then have three pretty promenades, the South none.

Dr. Sagastume, Montevideo envoy to Paraguay, left for Asuncion, on board the Brazilian steamer.

Mr. Busciantini arrived at the Hotel de la Paz, on Thursday, a slight accident. A tiger of his being also accommodated in the hotel, caused a well-founded alarm among the guests, but the ferocious animal has since been either concealed or removed. It is really surprising that a house of public entertainment should be used for a menagerie, even temporarily.

Two new chairs have been established in the University. Dr. Barmeister, as Professor of Natural History, and Mr. Charles Murray, of Pharmacology and Pharmacy. The University will gain by such additions, both these gentlemen being well-versed in their respective branches.

Norma will be played to night, and as it is likely to be played in open to-day, although the Crudos threaten to attend themselves, we shall perhaps have the National Hymn at Colon. The Theatre on Thursday night was badly sung: the house was full to the ceiling, but Lelini was out of voice, perhaps owing to the weather, and spoiled the performance.

IMPORTS OF B. AYRES AND MONTEVIDEO 1862.
The imports of B. Ayres, for the year, amount to 445 millions mje a about 23 millions sterling, leaving an excess over exports, or a balance of trade against us, one and a half million sterling, being 8 silver dollars per head of the population of the whole Argentine provinces. The imports of Montevideo amount to 10 millions dollars silver, being one million less than the exports, and showing a balance of trade in favor of that country equal to 3 silver dollars per head of the population. To make this clearer, we may say, that an Argentine produces 41 and consumes 47: while an Oriental produces 11 and consumes 10.

The blighted parts of B. Ayres imports give the following percentages: groceries 11, wines 10, cottons and calicoes 10, woollens and mixed 8, sugar 7, corn and flour 6, brandy and liquors 5, yerba-mate 5, hardware and iron 5, hats, boots and clothing 5, pine and lumber 4, fancy goods 4, tobacco 4, silk 4, tanned hides 3, jewellery 1, furniture 1, cutlery 1, paper and books 1, textiles and delts 1, perfumery and matches 1, drugs 1, jewellery 1, other articles 14.

The imports of Montevideo stand in this ratio: cotton and mixed goods 16, wine 14, sugar 8, groceries 6, liquor 4, tobacco 4, hats and clothing 4, fancy goods 3, boots and leather 3, hardware 3, silk 3, textiles 3, cloth 3, cereals 2, tanned hides 1, furniture 1, paper and books 1, yerba and delts 1, perfumery and matches 1, drugs 1, jewellery 1, other articles 14.

The import duties of Buenos Ayres amount to 75 millions or £200,000 (at the exchange of 1867); the first being an average of 17 per cent, and the second 17 per cent ad valorem of the total imports.

England stands first in the B. Ayres list, being three millions ahead of France, although French articles pay much more duty: this was owing to the former classifications of duties which are now reduced to a uniform rate. Spain, Brazil, and Montevideo come next, and then the United States, Germany, Italy, Paraguay and Holland.

Buenos Ayres receives from France, wine, cotton and woollen goods, fancy articles, clothing, silk, and sugar. From England, cotton and woollen goods, hardware, clothing and coal. From Spain, wine, salt, and groceries. From Paraguay, sugar and yerba-mate. From Brazil, yerba-mate, sugar, tobacco, and gold. From Uruguay, sugar and yerba-mate. From Chile, wheat, from India, silk.

Montevideo receives from England, cotton, calicoes, hardware and beer. From France, wines, silks and fancy goods. From Spain, wine and salt. From Italy, wine. From Germany, liquors and calicoes.

From the United States, furniture. From La Plata tanned hides, and English manufactures. From Brazil, sugar, calicoes, yerba and tobacco.

THE REIGN OF TERROR.

TWO DOCTORS ATTACKED.
Another outrage we hear of, in broad daylight, in the streets of Buenos Ayres: two gauchos pursued the wife and daughter of a rather popular broker, and tried to deprive them of their shawls, but the ladies screamed and the neighbors came to their assistance before the robbers could effect their purpose.

Dr. Bosch was attacked in his carriage near the Dols de Oro chapel (11 de Setiembre) by a robber, the physician drew his revolver, shot the ruffian in the arm, bound his wound and then conveyed him to the Police.

Dr. Adler was waylaid in calle San Martin, on Tuesday night: he took to his heels and was chased by the two not paid as yet, as calle Esmeralda, where a group of persons was standing, seeing what the robbers did. It happened that a gentleman was coming round from calle Tucuman to San Martin when he saw the robbers give chase to the doctor: he at once turned and fled.

Some drunken men were seen knocking about the streets on Thursday, without suffering molestation from the Police.

Alarm News from the Interior.

Disturbances in Salta and Catamarca.
We regret to inform our readers that in the distant provinces of Salta and Catamarca some revolutionary characters are again making their appearance. We hope the Government troops will succeed in putting the fellows down; but since the Flores invasion of the Banda Oriental, we have had distrust upon the slightest revolutionary movement in these countries. An old woman with only a broom stick crossing the Arroyo Medio, with sinister intentions, is now a days not to be laughed at.

The leaders of the row on the present occasion are three, in number—Aroaz, Agüero, and Palacios. These gentlemen have flung their scabbards to the winds, and called all Catamarca to arms.

In Salta a Colonel Wilde is said to be the inspiring regenerator of the republic. The forces of the rebels are variously estimated. Wilde has four men, a black boy, and a dog (Flores only had two men when he invaded the Banda Oriental, and no black boy, nor dog), while the army of the liberators (as the "Tribuna" would call them) is limited to some fifty or sixty "montoneros," i.e. out-thieves.

Col. Cordova had been despatched from Catamarca with 400 men to fight the rebels. Don Exaristo Alfaro has been named commander-in-chief in Salta. The 5th of line in Salta have all mutilated, and Colonel Wilde is charged with being the cause.

The Federal League in Catamarca has left that province, being obliged to attempt to some private business in Tucuman. In the frontier districts of Catamarca, the montoneros hold sway, but as they have no force to present against the Government troops, it is thought they will be subjugated without difficulty.

In Jujuy everything is very quiet: the native people have grown a good deal of cotton, which they are manufacturing into calicoes.

In Tucuman, the new Governor, Don J. M. Pope, was received. Sr. Piedro-buena was named Minister of Government.

PARANA.

The "Litoral" of the 30th April gives an account of a grand sally, given by the people of that city on the occasion of the appointment of the new Governor, Don Jose M. Dominguez, on the night of the 27th ult.

Ten individuals belonging to that class, called by ancient writers 'oi polloi,' impressed into their service 4 hand organs, 1 flute, 1 harp, and 2 horns, and then, plunging merrily into joy, marched to the Police (how strong is instinct), and there serenaded the new Governor. Each organ played the waltz to which it was most accustomed, and the consequence was, a delightful melody of the 'Marsellaise,' 'Partout pour le Syrie,' 'Jeannette and Jeanot,' and 'All non gone.' The harp went on its own and played the inspiring melody of 'Garibaldi et la Liberté,' the flute struck up the 'British Grenadier,' whilst bones went rattling, and the drums beat. 'Sally, come up.' To add lustre, and, if possible, additional splendour to the function, three rockets were fired off, and the whole eighteen men made 'the welkin ring' with their joyous shouts. We are not aware what the 'welkin' is, but we are sure that had the 'welkin' been there, it would have been rung. The music was so excellent, that it rushed out to the crowd and asked them 'to give it a name.' The plebs named beer, and beer it was. When the beer was expended, the enthusiastic multitude dispersed, quite enchanted with the Claretianish manners of the Gefe Politico. After wandering about the city for some time, cogitating as to upon whom next they would bestow their tediousness, they came to the conclusion that Donna Petrona Serrano was likely party to state beer and their wretchedness, and accordingly they directed their footsteps to her hospitable mansion, and favoured her with variations of 'Pop goes the weasel,' and 'Off you like Dugberry,' as they regarded of expense, the excited crowd fired off two other rockets, and by screwing up the stop, as if by magic, the delightful music changed, what Germans call 'it's motive,' and played several dance airs. Such is the fickleness of the great unwashed, that the crowd on a sudden changed, and played much more coarsely than they did from the Police, owing, perhaps, to the superior quality and larger quantity of 'lugar' distributed. Their last stoppage was at the house of Barrientos, and there they indulged in what Milton calls the exercise of the light, fantastic waltz, the 'double shawl.' This small game was kept up till daybreak, and although there was a deal of what our American cousins call 'smiling,' there was no disorder of any kind.

This is the way in which the people of Parana celebrated the appointment of Governor of Entre Rios.

GREAT NEWS FROM CORDOVA.

A GOVERNOR CAUGHT.

The Paven, which arrived late on Wednesday evening, in consequence of the fog, brought us rather amusing information from Cordova. It appears that the feeling between Crudos and Coidos in Buenos Ayres, is nothing in comparison to that at present in Cordova. For some time back there has been a regular hunt throughout the province for the ex Governor, the unfortunate Posse. Every hovel in the country has been searched. The hunt has been the province of San Juan for Mr. Rickard's dog, which we hear is from her Majesty's pack, was as nothing to the hunt through Cordova for Posse. He was, however, at last caught, we believe, up a gum tree, and at once lodged in prison. We hear that every man, woman, and child, is against the present Government; but the Governor has the reins in his own hand, and keeps a good hold of them. If we are to believe reports, the state of Cordova is truly alarming, and a revolution is hourly expected.

THE ARGENTINE CENTRAL RAILWAY.

Buenos Ayres, May 1864.

To the Editors of the Standard.

I had Sr. Santamaría confined his justification of the proceedings which, as he states, have been attributed to Mr. David Robertson, to the columns of the native press, which we should have allowed it to subside into the dull slough of profligate and unbecoming rubbish, which Fate or "damned custom" makes it our mutual duty to press, but as he has thought proper to republish a translation of it in the 'Standard,' and thus to bring the weight of his influence to bear on the foreign members of this community, we feel it a duty, interdicted as we acknowledge ourselves to be, in the success of the Great Central Railway, to make some observations in reply, for, to permit his communication to pass unnoticed would amount to a tacit consent in all its allegations.

The friends of Mr. Wheelwright have long since known that Sr. Santamaría, Director of the Standard, has been omitted to state, that the opposition of Mr. Robertson, its chairman, arose from Mr. Wheelwright's refusal to concede to the Southern his Kassaca concession—the right of the line, granted by Mr. Robertson, in offering his support to the Cordoba line—when finding Mr. Wheelwright firm in his refusal, and indignant at the opposition he had encountered, he then came forward with a statement calculated to interfere with the immediate realization of the great Argentine enterprise, expressing much sorrow that the appropriation of half the land granted to the Company, by the Contractors, who had declined to construct the railway upon other terms.

Sr. Santamaría and Mr. Robertson doubtless are quite satisfied that the Rosario and Cordoba railway can be made at the rate of 40,000 per mile, although they are not prepared to acknowledge that the appropriation of half the land granted to the Company, by the Contractors, who had declined to construct the railway upon other terms.

It may be alleged that the contractors of the Southern line have been obliged to include in their estimates no less than the sum of £35,000 for the lands which the Government cession of Government is liable; and here we acknowledge the only strong argument against us.

When Mr. Robertson—an excellent friend of Buenos Ayres, no doubt, and for which, in connection with its bonds, he naturally entertains much love—found that his attempts to coerce Mr. Wheelwright into a concession of his line to Mendoza (by the cost of which the public will learn in due time how to estimate that to Chascomus) were unsuccessful, he determined to use his influence he possesses—and we are fortunately able to assure our readers that beyond the limited circle of Sr. Santamaría and his friends it amounts to nothing—to being directed on the guarantee of the Argentine Confederation, by comparing the value of the bonds of that confederation with the bonds of the Rosario and Cordoba line (not then even issued) with those of the province of Buenos Ayres on the London Stock Exchange, thereby to prove that the real security for the guaranteed interest of 7 per cent, on the cost of the Rosario and Cordoba line was the land that had been granted to the company.

As regards the relative security of the National and Provincial Governments, we shall say nothing further, than remind our readers, that since the arrangements made by Mr. Giso, with the then Minister of Finance of this province, for the redemption of the Rosario and Cordoba line, the interest of its bonds, has been emitted to circulation 185 millions of depreciated paper dollars, besides about 100 millions of internal bonds in the same medium, leaving an interest at the rate of 6 and 10 per cent, and which were taken almost in their totality at 25 per cent, discount, leaving a loss of 75 per cent, on the investment, which was nothing further, than remind our readers, that since the arrangements made by Mr. Giso, with the then Minister of Finance of this province, for the redemption of the SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUD & CO.
No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.
The immense advantages of Accounts Current are so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Maud & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have no hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workmen & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Maud & Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 18th 1893.
