FRIDAY, MAY 20, 4864.

THE PARAGUAY LETTER.

Sr. Bergen' letter to Minister Elizalde has taken Buenes Ayres by surprise Our colleagues can hardly find epithets strong eneugh to use towards the Para guayan Minister, and threaten a reply from M. Elizalde which will annihilate M. Berges. In order that our readers may thoroughly understand the matter we translate and publish the document.

The severity of M. Berges is mainly attributable to his ignoring the school of South American diplomacy and adopting the European.

M. Berges has the advantage of our minister in this respect, that he has travelled through Europe and the U. States and in the discharge of his duty as special envoy, has mixed with the leading diplomatists of those countries. We cannot take on us to say how far correct the charges are which the Para-guayan Minister makes respecting the want of good faith, and contradiction, manifested in M. Elizalde's notes, since we have not read them, but we opine that our minister would have consulted more his own and his Government's terests in refraining from publishing

M. Berges' note.

There is an open simplicity in the Paraguayan Minister's note which gains for him in the estimation of all unpre judiced people. He states his case plainly and without any awful super-fluity of words, andcomes right to the matter at issue.

The following is the Paraguay Minister's letter :In fine, the result of the notes of the Paraguayan Government, asking expla-nations from that of the Argentine Republic with respect to the Oriental Government has been a dead silence of ten weeks; and this delay is likely to cause difficulties, and interrupt pending negativities.

Such unsatisfactory results cannot but render negotiations very difficult for this Government, which cannot do less than look with distrust upon the Argentine Government, which has de-layed so long in giving the explanations which your Excellency in your note of 31st December, so expressly states would be forthcoming, and it is my poinful duty to call your Excellency's attention to the total unfulfillment of your promise. Government to reiterate the assertion which is the ground of this present note, that some points in my note of 6th January are capable of causing difficulties, and interrupting pending nego

And if this Government ought to be grateful to that of the Argentine Re-jublic for the consideration which it has showed to my former notes, I can not help noticing the total absence of all explanations, so repeatedly request-ed, and on that account the Paraguayan

ed, and on that account the Paraguayan Government of the Procession with your note of Sist December.

Late events in the River, Plate gives a more belient signification to the position of the Argentine and Oriental Governments, which cannot but arrest the serious attention of this country, impressed as it is with its futile endea-

On the contrary, it appears to this Co-vernment that the Oriental Republic is burt by the fortifications and vessels of war assombled at Martin Garcia, as they prevent the Oriental men of war from intercepting the supplies which have sent from Buenes Ayres to General

It is, far, from the intention of this Government to deny the Argentine Republic the right to vindicate her honor, so long as the independence of the Oriental Republic is not endangered; but it should have preferred that some other steps had been taken, which might prove, the moderation which your Excellency says has been shown in the differences with the Oriental Republic, and thus which was a second for and thus avoid giving any ground for the public idea that you give protection to General Flores.

have arranged all disagreements.

Things being so situated, I am under the disagreeable necessity of stating that, in the absence of these friendly explanations which were requested, my Government, in future, must take its own view of such matters as may endanger the sovereignty and independence of the Oriental State, to which we cannot remain silent sace. which we cannot remain silent spec tators, either for our own interests or for those of the River Plate.

THE BARRACAS MARKET

We cannot say that we are much surprised that Republican Governments, instigated, as they usually are by a false spirit of economy, should seek to huddle together attributes and duties which require alike distinct talents, as they do experience, for by so doing the treasury is saved so much in the shape of salaries; but we are astonished that men who occupy good positions should roin their reputation by accepting offices of such heterogeneous duties, that it is an absolute bsurdity to suppose they can properly discharge the same.

The present person we have to deal with is Charles Tejedor, who, we believe, is a lawyer, was a minister, and, it is thought, has some aspirations a being an itinerant victualler.

There is a suburb of Buenos Ayres called Barracas ; it is thickly populated, and is daily increasing in importance; a scheme for building a suitable marketplace has been sent into Government. The matter, of course, was sent. for consideration to a person who knew nothing whatsoever about the wants and requirements of the people of Barracas. Now, if we remember aright, when M. Pastor Obligado was named railway inspector, he had the honesty to say that he would act to oblige the Government, although he nothing whatsoever about rail This was candid of M. Obliways. This was cannot of M. Obl-gedo, and consequently saved him from our consure for all his subsequent mis-takes; but Mr. Tejedor lacked the dis-cretion of Ton Pastor, and when the Barracas market affair was referred to Darracas market man was referred to him, gratuitously asserted that the people in Barracas were well enough as they are, and required no market. We quote this case merely as an instance, of the utter incompetence of some of our public men, and to prove to our readers that the bane of this country, is nutting, wrong men in country is putting wrong men in wrong places. If Government had referred the market question to any resident in Barracas; if Schore Botet, Fernandez, Suarez, Videla, or any other respectable resident of the place impressed as it is with its fatile endea-your to obtain explanations.

"Your Excellency in your note of the place of the CONGRESS.

The Deputies are still under a cloud, out we may expect those legislative constellations to shine again to day, the committees having announced business on hand.

The Senators have begun skirmishing, Messrs. Piñero and Alsini leading on the tirailleurs. The vote of censure on the Executive, touching the exposed state of the Cordoban frontiers, will hardly pass; but it would be well to call the War Minister before the house on the matter. Government solicits a General's cocked hat for old Mr. Blas Pico ; the hat is before Committee, but really there is already a plethora of Generals among our militaires. There is also a bill before committee to pay full pension to the veterans of Indepen-dence; this seems just, nevertheless it will be an additional charge on our will be an additional charge on our reduced exchequer. The arrangements of the English, French, and Italian claims have been submitted for ratification; also the debt contracted with Brazil in upsetting the tyrant Rosas. D. Marcos Paz proposes to give a rise to the porters of Congress; and appoint a Mayordomo, involving an additional expense of 1260 patacons per annum.

The President's Friday evening teaparties have not yet been resumed.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

All the tailors in town are unusually ousy, and the May festivals will be extraordinarily brilliant, if it do not rain. The platforms and fireworks are being constructed in the Plaza-The Museum and Cathedral will be illuminated by gas-jets. It is said the Municipality cedulas this time will be more respectable than last year; at least one per cent. of the lottery will be prizes.

There will be no inauguration of the Western Railway to Villa Luxan, but the prolonged line will be open to public traffic on and after Monday, 23rd inst. It is not clear that Monday will be a holiday, nor can we say about Thursday. 'The packet edition will appear in any case before departure of the Mersey (Friday, 27th.)

Mr. McGovern is going ahead with the Boca earth-works. He has the terraplane finished from the yellow house underLezama's quinta to the Barraca de Pelia. The printing for Congress has created a regular fuss amongst the print-ers. The following is the way the matter was settled. To Messrs, Bornheim & Bonco the printing of the orders of the day; to Messrs. Varcia and Casafusth, the Diario de Susiones; to the Nacional, the daily newspaper caparts.

As there are numerous young men at present in the city auxious to umbrace the sheep-farming business, we advise them to see Messrs Agairre and Murga, who offer, for minding flocks of one thousand sheep, house, corral, and horses, rations, two hundred and fifty dollars per month, and two dollars per head increase in the flock at the end of each year. We consider these are very fair terms, and hope to see our unemployed countrymen acsec our unemployed countrymen ac-

There is at present for sale a large tract of land, extending from Dolores to the coast, some 91 leagues in extent it is all private property. We believe that the proprietors would sell at the Government price, that is to say, 200,000 dollars per league. Our object in mentioning the matter, is to see if we can get fifty Irishmen who will club together and buy the ter-ritory. If we meet with any support in the matter, we shall open a list in our office. Fifty, or even twenty, of our camp subscribers, could most easily purchase this property, which in a very few years will be worth ten times the money. We request our readers in the country to think the matter over. There are several estan-

CAUTION. We regret to say that it is our duty to advise our readers of the existence of a gang of English and German burglars in this city. The fellows who were caught in Mr. Hargrenve's store last week are some of the gang who robbed Mr. Visser's safe some months ago. It is the duty of the Chief of Police to give every publication to the statement of the prisoners, in order that we may all be on our guard. One of the fellows in prison says his name is Smith, and that he is a machinist by trade.

MAGAZINES FOR MAY.

There was a time when Buenos Avres boasted not a single monthly publication, but within the last year half a-dozen have sprung up. We will review them soriatim.

The River Plate Magazine contains some very interesting papers. The 'Dungeons of Paraguay' is a horrible recital of the sufferings of 20 Argentine citizens under the gloomy despotism of Francia: it affords us a contrast ism of Francia; it affords us a contrast with the present paternal and prosperous rule of President Lopez, for which we have to congratulate the inhabitants of that country. Mr. Charles Murray writes on the water supply of the city, showing that digible (cistern) water is very wholesome, and that the river water when taken from proper quarters is better than that of the Scine or Thames. Consul Hutchinson's paper on the Convent of San Lorenzo will be read with interest. Mr. Lowis contributes a history of the National Library, wherein we see that the Afrat aubscribers were all Englishmen, a fact not generally known. The chapter of Artennia. Alpaca into Australia are valuable. Dr. Burmeister favors the public with a scientific review of the Public Museum. Finally, Sr. Estrada gives a sketch of Pay-zuma, the Hereules of Paraguayan mythology, but the style of translation is even more obscure than the subject treated of. On the whole, this number is interesting, but it is a pity the proofs have not been read more carefully.

memory of so distinguished a lawyer. Candidly speaking, we cannot see why the Government should refer such a question to M. Tejedor, unless for the purpose of taxing the patience of the people of Barracas, or of throwing odium on a man who, we believe, has after all, some claims on the public.

Buen Ordon. We wish Mr. R. every tributes a critiquic on female coquetry—we should like to see her try ner hand on male coquettes. Atahualna is a novelette by M. Palma. Dr. Quesada's reminiscences of Corrientes are pictures on the kind badly, and hope President of the kind badly, and hope President of the control of the corrientes are pictured. Dr. Quesada's reminiscences of Corrientes are pictured as the control of the who have at heart the trade and condi-tion of the interior. Sr. Camacho's apology for hair powder, and Dr. Tris-tatany's mineral investigations are very apropos. This being the 12th No, of the Kevista we have to congratulate the tal-ented editors on the conclusion of their first year. Their magazine has not only afforded us many a pleasant hour, but diffused a varied fund of information respecting these countries. The Re-vista created a new and most useful branch of literature in Buenos Ayres, branch of literature in Buenos Avres. for which we must all feel sincerely grateful.

The fortnightly publication, Medico-Quirurgica, Sh inst. contains many interesting data. We find that nearly two-thirds of the patients in the native two-thirds of the patients in the native hospitals are foreignore; and here we feel bound to express the gratitude of many of our poor countrymen who were treated with much tender care, gratuitously, in the institutions. The inmates of the Lunatic Asylum are evenly divided between natives and foreigners. The test of the serial is made up of medical investigations uninteresting to medical investigations uninteresting to all but the faculty.

M. Palliere's Album has been hailed with great and well-deserved applause, and we are happy to find a large pro-portion of his subscribers among our matter over. There are several estancias on the property in question; the land is all measured and 'mojon'-ed; the title is the most unquestionable in the country, and approved of by Government. Come on, friends, and let us give a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, and the 91 leagues of land, the very finest in the province, will be ours.

The people in Chivileoy are about to erect a statue to Garribaldi. We opine it would be far better for them to invest their spare dollars in making roads and getting out a few traction, engines, to keep their maize and wheat from rutting at the chaeras for the want of proper convoyance to market. countrymen. To the above local publications, we may add an American one, with which we have been favoured by the agent, Mr. Briol, 196 Calle Reconquista, Godey's Lady's B-ok. We have just received the March number of this interesting and amusing magazine, and however hackneyed the phrase may be, we cannot help saying, 'that no house, where there are women and children, should be without it.' It has, as usual, lurge plates of the fashions, and a yere large plates of the fashions, and a very pretty engraving, besides some samples of embroidery. The letterpress of it is very fair, and the price extrava-gantly cheap.

PRISON REPORM,

We are happy to say that we noticed in the 'Tribuna' of Wednesday some few remarks upon the lamentable state of our prisons, and we readily join with our colleague in calling for reform The state of the 'carcel' in Buenos Ayres is such that every few years an irruption breaks out and either the sentries are shot down and the prisoners escape, or vice versa, the ringleaders are killed and the rest put in irons.

It is time, however, that some measures be taken to remodel our prison system. If we are to believe report, the place is at present full of cut throats and assassins, and the judges will not sentence these ruffians to be

Our colleague, the 'Tribuna,' however, is wrong. What we want, instead of prison improvement, is judicial reform. No man, of course, is at liberty to call the judges of the land a set of ruffians, but at least we can say that they are so slow in their decisions that the public wolfare is endangered.

We thank our colleague, the 'Tribu na, for taking the matter up, and would suggest that every month a general juil delivery should take place, the same as at home. Every prisoner should be brought forward, placed on

STATE OF THE PAPER MONEY

As it is to be supposed that some at least of our readers take an interest in the paper money question, we give the following official account of the state of our papier maché :

Paper money emitted according to the laws
Tof 1859 and 1861 ... $160,000,000
Burned down to 9th
September 1863 ... 54,790,000 54,790,000

$105,210,000 Deduct the amount burnt this month 4,000,000

$101,210,000 There is therefore altegether in cir-culation about 356 millions of paper money, which the sooner burnt the better for the country at large.

PARANA

We have received our files of " El Litoral," and can find nothing in them of any interest. Things, in that part of the world, are in a very ditch-watery state; in fact so dull, that the newspapers, departing from the general rule of allowing a man's bones to rest quietly for 25 years with his fathers before publicly criticising his character, have actually to write ex-Governor Urguoza's decds and misdeeds. This is scarcely fair-it is too bad to dissect and scarrify a living subject. The 'Litoral' rejoices at the resignation of office of Don Domingo Comas, who was lately Gefe Politico of that region. This is the party, our readers will remember, who were serenaded in such a magnificent style by "oi polloi" on the late election of Governor, and who stood unlimited drinks to the crowd. His late Secretary, Don Manuel Fontes, is talked of as succeeding him.

The same authority says that a new The same authority says that a new Cicero has appeared to stun the world with his oratory, in the person of the new Governor, Don Jose Maria Do-minguez; but then Don Evaristo Carreigo is such a wag that there is no knowing when he is calking seriously. knowing when he is calking seriously. However, be that as it may, Carreigo says that Dominguez has been taking lessons in snubbing from the Judicious bottle holder, Palmerston, and on being asked in the Chambers why the Government employees were not paid their salaries—we beg pardon—revenues, he answered that "the Alinisters of the Transmer wears have counting the cash; answered that "the Ministers of the Treasury were busy counting the cash; and if they were not engaged in that agreeable occupation, it was solely owing to the circumstance of there being no money to count."

The old nursery rhyme says that when the Queen counts her money she fortifies her constitution by eating bread and honey. We suppose that the Parana Ministers of Finance, (instead of doing like hodmen when counting bricks and calling out "ten and tally,") whenever they count a hundred, take a "mattecite," This operation naturally takes up some little time and General takes up some little time, and Governor Domingues treated the impertinent grumbling of the employes very properly, namely with contempt. What graining of the employes very prop-erly, namely with contempt. What right have such fellows to ask for sal-ary? They have had their chance of "prigging," and if they did not take advantage of it, it was their own fault.

INDIANS

On the 1st inst., the Indians again came down like wolves on the fold' in Monther of those monster eastings for which this locality is daily becoming more celebrated, was recently drawn by steam along the public roads from the foundry of Messra R. & J. Harris, of Rotherdam, to the works of Messra Bessener in this town. Although this casting was not so heavy as the last one more deby-sho same means, it was sufficient still further to demonstrate the at rantage of this system of haulage over the ordinary one of horses for such purposes. We understand, that this casting weighed about 30 tons, whereas the previous one was 45 tons, and on a former occasion when one of these of larger dimensions was moved it was necessary to employ no less than sixty horses. To those who have witnessed one-fourth of this number working together, it will be evident how difficult, such an operation must be, while the obstruction to general traffic and damage done to the roads, although unavoidable, must be very great. These ing together, it will be evident how difficult, such an operation must be, while the obstruction to general traffic and damage, done to the reads, although unavoidable, must be very great. These objections are greatly reduced, if not entirely removed, by the use of the steam-horse, who, with dis load, occupies but little more space than an ordinary waggon and four horses, and being under the most perfect control of the driver, is easily made to exert his whole strength at the time and places and in themanner required, and, what is of great importance, is enabled to whole strength at the time and places and in the manner required, and, what is of great importance, is enabled to stop it instantaneously. The engine owned by Messrs Harris left their foundry with the load on a truck, and proceeded about a mile, when, from the roads being soft, the wheels of the truck cut through the surface, causing some delay, and it was thought advisome delay, and it was thought advi-sable to avail themselves of the use of the smaller, engine in addition, which they had also used on the last occasion and they then proceeded and arrived without let or hindrance at the foot of Suital-bill. Since the similar operation Spital-hill. Since the similar operation in November, which we reported at the time, an alteration has been made in the engine, which greatly facilitated the means of turning the sharpest angles, with its fall power, in any directions; and the advantage thus derived was here very evident, as it turned with the greatest ease out of the Rotherham road, round on to Spital-hill, with the load attached. At this point (if not being dark) the small engine was detached, and the larger one alone drew the lead up the hill to the entrance of Mr. Bessener's works, where it was found that the gateway was too narrow for the engine to enter. It was therefore detached, and the smaller one put in its place, when, with care and skilful management, it entered the gateway. Spital-hill. Since the similar operation ful management, it entered the gateway which was only wide enough to admit the casting, and it was left safely, on the casting, and it was left safely, on the truck in the yard.

To those of our readers, and there must be many, to whom this new system of haulage is interesting, and who have not themselves witnessed it in operation it may be necessary to state that the great advantage claimed for it arises solely from the adoption of the "lind-less Railway" invoined by the late James Boydell, formerly known as a large ironunater in Staffordshire. As James Boydell, formerly known as a large ironnaster in Staffordshire. As its name imports, the wheels of the engine lay their own rails to run on and the broad shoe, or sleeper, which bears them, coming between the wheels and the ground takes off all friction from the surface of the road and gives a hold or bite to the driving whoels of the engine, enabling it thus to exert its greatest steam power without loss from engine, ensuring it thus to exert is greatest steam power without loss from slipping, an object hitherto unattained and unattaineble by any engines the which of which come in direct contact with the ground. A careful examination of this "Endless Railway" in operation during the recent trials in this neighborhood must have satisfied every neighborhood must have satisfied overy one of the advantages of this system, as the raising of each sleeper successively from the ground, even where at the softeet, showed a defined print of its shape, but with a total absence of all abrasion or friction on the surface of the road. It was also evident that mone of the stoppings of obstructions on these several journeys had any reference to the engine, but solely to the load breaking through the crust of the road, although on one occasion the whole four wheels of the truck were 18 inches broad.

whole four wheels of the truck were 18 inches broad.

We understand that a truck is now being constructed to which the "Eadless Railway" will partially be applied which, while it will enable the same steam power to draw heavier weights with groater ease, will also by the distribution of weight over a largely extended surface, and the comparative absence of friction, greatly lessen the damage done to the reads, which the carriage of such ponderous loads on any ordinary wheels must always occasion, and which, although at present unavoidable, is, to say the least, very objectionable.
