Wanted

The list of public wants is not observable in a long file of advertisements.

Wanted a horse, dairy, waggon, government copying-press, well-served business, wife, or female companion.

Wanted a fixed rate of currency, that we may know what we are really worth.

Wanted a spirit of activity in the public offices, seeing that "business is business".

Wanted a score of stout frontiers, as soon as the Artesian well finds water.

Wanted a Ministry who will tax knives, billiards, Opera-boxes & taverns, and take of the duties which weigh down the exported fruits of industry.

Wanted Justice of the Peace who would devote more attention to seizing assassins than hussies, and regard gringos with even more horror than guachos.

Wanted a Maxim for our city to transfer the former to the camp Arroyos.

Wanted a check to secure our shipping from the gusty visits of St. Rosa.

Wanted model Editors (of the stamp lately described in the columns of our English colleague).

Wanted more capital punishments and fewer troops of the line.

Wanted an importation of immigrants in exchange for an export cargo of "sewells".

yes, Parisian fies, swart-canes, wrist-bands, pomatium and tom-foolery.

Change of Weather.

The barometer of our hopes fell a little this morning, on reading Mitre's reply of the 14th inst., to Urquiza.

Without rejecting the proffered shake-hands, our Governor distinctly limits the friendship of Buenos Ayres to a moral obligation tending to mutual peace.

It also remains his late adversary that the National identity cannot depend on private Provincial compact.

The hero of Pavon does not exclude the victor of Caseros from taking part in the national regeneration.

Here, in a far-off land, with seasons so opposite, old Father Xmas is robust of health...

"Comes but once a year" And when it comes, it brings good cheer...

All these are here wanting, and it requires an effort of imagination to associate the festival of Christmas at home with the tropical glow of this country.

Yet this great festival commemorating the dawn of Christianity brings with it a charm of friendly unity among Christians of every persuasion...
