All full and complete... WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1864.

THE DROUGHT.

Notwithstanding that it has rained most copiously both north and south, the accounts we hear from all parts of the country are of the most melancholy character.

After a long period of inaction the army of the Potomac had commenced forward movement. Generals French and Sedgwick (P) met the enemy on the banks of the Rappahannock...

Sheep farmers completely will receive the truth of our remarks; the system of crowding posts upon pasture-land has been so much exploded that landowners have been called the good years have made splendid fortunes, now covered with dead animals and the scenes of ruin and desolation.

Take any one of the favorite parties within the district named, and we wish to show a square inch upon which some one's sheep have not trodden; the same land which formerly led to three millions of sheep at the very utmost, is now made to support Twenty Millions.

Laten down for the very roots, the young grass which for the last few years has germinated from seed which through some cause or other has lain dormant in the earth, we have at last arrived at the climax; all the seed has sprouted, all the grass is eaten up, and now there is nothing left. Glossy as this picture may appear, there are few who can deny our accuracy.

9th year, which is the extreme wildness of the winter, followed by cutting frost in the spring, the thistle seed did not grow, but we all know and it has been proved that this seed will sometimes remain for years in the ground without shooting forth. The clover or carucilla seed is becoming less and less each year, owing to its inaccessibility to the seed.

Secretary Seward, in a recent speech, compares the rebel force at 200,000 men. In consequence of the defeat of the Democrats in Ohio and Pennsylvania, it is supposed that the last ray of hope for the South has been extinguished.

Was there ever a greater delusion? No doubt last winter was unusually dry, but we do not think that this summer has been quite the contrary, and if reference is only had to Mr. Seward's speech and Diavet's weather book for last year and two years before, it will be found that it has rained more during the months of November and December 1863 than for many previous years.

There are no more prairie swamps that have been recently cut, and the grass is completely eaten down and exhausted that for the next twelve months, no matter how much it may rain, they will be perfectly unfit for sheep or cattle.

Many persons profess surprise that Blair, which has hitherto been a goodly and fertile prairie, has become a barren and sterile tract in the last year; it is simply because since 1850 nearly all the stock has been off it, and now the lands as a natural consequence are covered with the best of grass.

A square league of land was formerly considered well stocked with from 12 to 16,000 sheep, whilst now it is an uncommon thing to have more than that number on the same extent.

Every sheep farmer in the country to prosper and be prepared for drought, should have three distinct runs for his sheep, upon which either sheep or cattle should feed. Within twenty-five leagues of Buenos Ayres no such thing is to be known.

Not all the rain from Heaven will suffice to resist the dry winds unless the sheep are taken off them, and the grass allowed to rest two or more years in getting along. In another year or two, but not more than two or three, which will be more with us than now.

Foreigners. To the farmer with your sheep, and your land, and your water in abundance. This land is not so abundant to be so much degraded as supposed, for more dangerous is it for you to remain at home to witness your sheep each day dropping from sheer starvation, and you and your families left homeless in this distant country.

Political organizations, with a view to overthrow the present military rule, are now being formed in New Orleans. Five thousand letters are intended for shipment to Europe, partly belonging to rebels, had been seized by the collector of internal revenue, but nearly four thousand copies were obtained by loyal persons they were given up, and the remainder stored for the present.

From the move on the Rappahannock the Federals are expecting important results, even should it have no greater effect in view than the destruction of the opposing rebel force for the defence of Richmond—if such should be effected, Richmond and the State of Virginia will soon be rendered untenable to the rebels, with or without a general battle between Lee and Grant.

Of course we do not mean to assert that some years and seasons are not more genial than others, but we do not expect copiously that at where the twenty millions of sheep have been fed for the last year, more than one child that number should be kept.

It is said that all Entre Rio is satisfied with the nomination of his neighbor, Corrientes. There is a general conviction that Urquiza will be elected, and that the legislature will approve of his election.

The Villa del Salto, it is said, will be repaired; but there are many who regard the accident in a very suspicious light.

THE LATE KING OF DENMARK. Frederick VII. the late King of Denmark, was born on the 6th of October 1808. He was the son of Christian VIII. and married on May 26, 1814, Louisa Wilhelmina Frederica Carolina Augusta Julia of Hesse-Cassel.

The valuable, but neglected building site at the corner of the old Plaza and Calle 22 de Mayo, is at last being improved, whether by order of Government or not, we cannot say; but certainly the old dilapidated sheds which, answering for a sort of Irish barrack, were the only place in the city, for the most part, in which the English street in town, and now of a more convenient Council has been built, and the quarter is being improved.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK WAJARG U'

No. 103 calle de Cangalla.

BUENOS AYRES.
The immense and complete of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few individuals who do not have one at the Bank in which they place their most confidential.
The Bank of Mont & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.
The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.
These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by a large number of Clerks, artisans, workmen & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of illness or old age instead of spending them in the momentary gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.
The Bank of Mont & Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 19th 1869.
p. p. Mont & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.
1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or any other dollar equivalent.
2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p] per annum which is liquidated every six months.
3rd. The depositor can at any time return the whole or part of the money deposited.
4th. Once the amount deposited reaches Twenty five thousand dollars currency or an equivalent dollar after the depositor has a check on an account current, usually in the sum established by the Bank.
5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS

Doct. Dr. Pongerrard, of the London University College.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronized by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, & there a small commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.
An ever-extended and constant super-class, and a strict observance of the due and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee for the morals and behaviour of the pupils, as well as their intellectual progress.
The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Bell's instruction.
Extra lessons, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are taught by special teachers.
The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful quarters of the Calle Larga de Barracas, is its very great advantage, it is one of the most beautiful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.
For further particulars apply to the Standard Office, Calle Bolgrano 71.
