FRENCH PACKET REVIEW.

This mail leaves us in a very undefined situation, although without immediate cause for alarm.

The British Minister's friendly offices between Buenos Ayres and Montevideo have proved fruitless.

We cannot have greater evidence of the rapid progress which Buenos Ayres might make, if order were properly guaranteed.

Next Monday week has been fixed for "turning the first sod" of the Great Southern railway.

The prolongation of the Western Railway, by Government, continues slowly, in direction of Villa Mercedes.

Our paper money depreciates daily, and tends to check business.

A terrible drought desolates our campaign, which is now as devoid of pasture as the desert of Sahara.

Immigration flows in steadily, but infinitely smaller than the wants of the country demand.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Saintonge leaves to-day for Montevideo and Rio Janeiro, with the mails for Bordeaux, at four p.m.

The Bogota, s.s., was to leave Liverpool for Chile, via Montevideo, on the 29th January.

On the day after to-morrow the great battle of the Cruces and Cocos is to come off.

In yesterday's paper we published the declaration of Carlos Burgin who was hunted like a mad dog and fired at by a gang of policemen.

The outrages at the Boca and Barracas, by policemen, should be punished. Also the alcalde, who was found in a man's house with a drawn sword.

A correspondent of the 'Nacion Argentina' defends the police ruffian who butchered poor Conwell at Villa Mercedes.

We are happy to learn that the Parana cotton fields are thriving: some of the plants are three to four feet high, and the most of them in flower.

Our commercial review to-day is meagre, as none of the circulars came out in time, owing to the Carnival.

It is rumoured three men were stabbed, during Carnival, at the Retiro, and another killed at Pasco Julio.

Rain has fallen plentifully in some parts of the camp: at San Vicente, on Monday evening, and in the North since then.

THE PARAGUAY MAILS.

The Igurey brings dates from Asuncion to February 6th. The country is progressing in the arts of peace.

"They commanded great attention, on the part of the brokers and manufacturers.

The fibre is long and strong, resembling the Jumel cotton of Egypt, and has been classed as 'good ordinary,' being valued at 3.75 francs per half-kilogramme.

Plentiful rains had fallen, and the reports of the tobacco crop were very favourable.

Great discontent is felt in Asuncion, touching a new customs regulation, which requires the Paraguay steamers to take out a manifest.

The 'Semenario' states that the relations with Buenos Ayres are not very satisfactory.

The Bolivian envoy, Dr. Arce, was unable to conclude his mission satisfactorily, about the Pilcomayo navigation.

The chief of Police, who never loses an opportunity of insulting foreigners, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-colonel.

The feast of St. Blas, patron of Norwich, Ragusa, and Paraguay, (Feb. 3) was kept with every solemnity.

The American Minister arrived on the 10th ult. from Buenos Ayres: the Bolivian Minister left for same place on the 21st.

Arrivals in January—4 steamers, 9 schooners, with 35 passengers. Sailings—3 steamers, 17 schooners, with 48 passengers.

MONTEVIDEO.

During the past month affairs in the Oriental Republic have been dragging their weary length at a lazy rate.

At a meeting lately held in the President's house, the majority of those present were in favour of re-instating the Chambers.

On the 1st of March next, according to the constitution, the Chambers should appoint the interim President of the Republic.

Flores had approached as near as twenty leagues from Montevideo, evidently having become tired of the unsuccessful siege of Paysandú.

Gomez' army was in good condition, but sadly felt the want of artillery.

Colonel Olid, who lately left Montevideo without orders, and gathered together a force on his own account, has been defeated by the rebel forces near Rocha.

After, for so long, leaving the entrance to the Oriental Republic open to the filibusters who flocked from this side to join Flores, the Montevidean Government have determined upon proving the inability of locking the stable door after the steed is stolen.

What is now most to be feared on the Government side is want of union amongst the military chiefs.

Precautions for Preserving the Peace during the approaching Elections.

The President of the Republic has issued the following orders with the view of keeping order during the elections on Sunday next.

The commissioners and police are instructed to lend their assistance to the examiners at the election tables.

Such as cause any disturbance in the Supreme Court, the Courts of the Judges of the Section, or in any meeting for the election of Government officers, will be adjudged to four months imprisonment, or be fined twenty eight hundred dollars.

Those who may be found guilty of falsifying, in any election, the list of votes or voters' names, or otherwise tampering with the election returns, will be liable to imprisonment for six months or three years, or to a fine of from 150 to 900 hard dollars.

Any one presenting himself at the voting table armed will be fined from 25 to 100 hard dollars, independent of the punishment for carrying arms.

Those who may steal or make away with any election documents will suffer imprisonment, with hard labour, of from one to three years, or be fined 1000 hard dollars.

STATE OF THE INTERIOR.

On 3rd inst. an emente took place in Cordoba, but was fortunately put a stop to. It appears that the soldiers of the garrison were the prime movers.

The Entre Rios elections take place on Sunday next, and are expected to be hotly contested.

Catamarca is busily engaged with the approaching elections, which promise to pass off quietly.

European Fleets in Foreign Ports.

In expectation of an European war, the Russian fleet which was paying a visit to the United States had gone up the Potomac.

It is generally supposed that this movement is intended to leave the Muscovite fleet free in case of a war between France and Russia.

The Italian war-steamers which had arrived in Rio Janeiro, on her way to the Plate, has been recalled to Europe.

Approach of looking after the safety of fleets: it is to be wondered at that Switzerland, or some other maritime nation, does not follow the example of Austria, which, in 1858, previous to the Sardinian war, announced to the European Powers that she purposed sending her navy, consisting of the 'Navarro,' on a scientific cruise around the world.

Cotton Association, Entre Rios.

Paraná, Feb. 8, 1864. To the Editors of the 'Standard' Gentlemen.

As I expected to have the pleasure of a visit from Mr. M. G. Mulhall, on his return from the cotton fields of Paraguay and Corrientes, I delayed until now writing to you for the purposes indicated to me by the Association.

D. Pedro Calderon received a letter from Mr. M. G. Mulhall, dated on board the steamer Esmeralda, which was read for the Association, and a vote of thanks was passed to you for your generosity.

As you are aware, our first plantation comprised 100,000 hills. The drought which ensued, coupled with a worm resulting from the same, and the bad quality of a portion of the seed laid down, caused us to lose the greater part, reducing our plantation to about 60,000 hills.

Our plantation covers 24 squares (80 acres) of ground, but next year we will increase it four-fold: a few days hence we will begin fencing and ploughing a tract of 80 squares, conceded to us in the district of Villa Urquiza.

We are sorry to see our example has not been followed at the colony (Villa Urquiza), for there are only two colonists who have so far two or three thousand hills each.

For your information I may add, that the land granted for the V. Urquiza colony was a square league (5,500 acres), of which one-half is already settled on.

Permit me, gentlemen, in conclusion, to congratulate you on the success of your efforts, and remain, Yours very truly, ANTONIO SABALD.

Anglo-Argentine Publications.

The second number of the 'River Plate Magazine' is a great improvement on the former month.

Biography concludes; it is a very interesting subject, but not translated with sufficient elegance.

M. Poncerand has a very appropos essay on the influence of mothers on education.

The Brazil and River Plate Mail is read with interest in Buenos Ayres, and some persons have lately subscribed in this office for our transatlantic col league.

The Brazil and River Plate Mail is read with interest in Buenos Ayres, and some persons have lately subscribed in this office for our transatlantic col league.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL.

Amongst other criminals now loose on society, we are creditably informed, is Señor Alzaga, the murderer of Alvarez.

Of a truth, Buenos Ayres may well boast of her delightful society now that, exclusive of the above mentioned Alzaga, there are other six human demons loose.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Immigrants.—On Monday half the whale boats in the river were busy in bringing ashore some hundreds of Italian immigrants; the Mole was absolutely covered with boxes, &c., belonging to one newly adopted fellow-citizen.

Dangerous Sport.—During the playing of Carnival on Sunday last, one indignant stranger, who was stopping in one of our fashionable hotels, flung a bottle of ale out of his window across the street, by way of a bit of fun.

Passengers for Montevideo.—In consequence of the great number of loose and suspicious characters who have of late been flocking to the Oriental Republic, that Government has decreed that, from this time forward, all persons who may land at Montevideo must present themselves at once at the police court.
