FRENCH PACKET REVIEW.

This mail leaves us in a very undeciphered situation, although without immediate cause for alarm. Affairs both at home and abroad look equally...

The British Minister's friendly offices between Buenos Ayres and Montevideo have proved fruitless, and the 'entente cordiale' completely broken...

We cannot have greater evidence of the rapid progress which Buenos Ayres is making, if order were properly guaranteed, than the material advances which it is our fortune to chronicle...

Our commercial review to day is meagre, as some of our papers came out in a political meeting, and instead of talking the Contractors, the Press, &c., we had a rapid effusion of party rhetoric...

A terrible drought desolates our campos, which is now as devoid of pasture as the desert of Sahara. Most of the Irish farmers have removed their flocks to the frontier lands...

Immigration flows in steadily, but infinitely smaller than the wants of the country demand. Men of capital, and farm servants, would do well to come hither again...

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Santiago leaves to day for Montevideo and Rio Janeiro, with the mails for Bordeaux, at four p.m. The mail bag closes at noon.

The Bogota, s.s., was to leave Liverpool for Chile, via Montevideo, on the 29th January. She will reach the latter port probably in 'twenty-four da's, so that we may hear of her soon...

In yesterday's paper we published the declaration of Carlos Durango who was lured like a mad dog and fired at by a gang of policemen...

The outrages at the Boca and Barracas, by policemen, should be punished. Also the alcalde, who was found in a man's house with a drawn sword...

A correspondent of the 'Nacion Argentina' defends the police ruffian who butchered poor Corwell at Villa Mercedes. He represents the scoundrel Diaz as a mild, benevolent, and unoffending individual...

We are happy to learn that the Parana cotton fields are thriving; some of the plants are three to four feet high, and the most of them in flower.

Our commercial review to day is meagre, as some of our papers came out in a political meeting, and instead of talking the Contractors, the Press, &c., we had a rapid effusion of party rhetoric...

THE PARAGUAY MAILS.

The figures bring dates from Assumption to February 6th. The country is progressing in the arts of peace.

They commanded great attention on the part of the brokers and many of the factors. The fibre is long and strong, resembling the Jumel cotton of Egypt, and has been classed as 'good ordinary,' being valued at 3.75 francs per half kilogramme...

Great discontent is felt in Assunção, touching a new customs regulation, which requires the Paraguay steamers to take out a manifest, en passant, at Corrientes. These vessels have the privilege of men-of-war...

The 'Sancristo' states that the relations with Buenos Ayres are not very satisfactory. President Lopez having strenuously demanded an explanation of the treachery practised towards Montevideo in favour of the filibuster Flores...

The Bolivian envoy, Dr. Acec, is unable to conclude his mission satisfactorily about the Pilcomayo navigation. The old question of boundaries around Paraguay has a weakness this way, and the Cabinet declared they could not treat with a minister not fully empowered...

The chief of Police, who never loses an opportunity of insulting foreigners, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. Several vagrants under arrest for not having some defined occupation have been very wisely sent to remote settlements to work.

The new law of Patents has been a stumbling block to merchants and is generally condemned as vexatious. A new law for the army has been called out. At the feast of the Purification (whit-tide) was celebrated with great pomp. Caravia's Cotton manual has been published for general use...

The American Minister, Mr. Adams, on the 19th ult. from Buenos Ayres; the Bolivian Minister left for same place on the 21st. Two grand balls took place at the Club on January 30th, and February 3rd. At the latter, the Oriental exiled family, Estradas, assisted.

Arrivals in January - steamers, 9 passengers, with 35 passengers. Sailings - 3 steamers, 17 schooners, with 48 passengers. Imports - $91,235. Exports - $261,765. Customs Duties - $10,318.

NOTICES.

During the past month affairs in the Oriental Republic have been dragging their weary length at a lax rate. President Flores effected a coup d'etat. Having quarrelled with his Chambers, he seized several of the members, and without trial, banished them to different parts.

At a meeting lately held in the President's house, the majority of those present were in favour of re-instating the Chambers, as being the only means of saving the country.

Flores had approached as near as twenty leagues from Montevideo, evidently having become tired of the unsuccessful siege of Paysandú. The revolutionary army amounts to about 1500 men.

Gomez's army was in good condition, but sadly felt the want of artillery. Colonel Obil, who lately left Montevideo without orders, and gathered together a force on his own account, has been defeated by the rebel forces near Rocha.

After, for so long, leaving the entrance to the Oriental Republic open to the filibusters who flocked from this side to join Flores, the Montevideo Government have determined upon proving the utility of locking the stable door after the steed is stolen, by passing an edict obliging all who may land on their shores, to present themselves at once to the public authorities.

STATE OF THE INTERIOR.

On 3rd inst. an emeute took place in Cordoba, but was fortunately put a stop to. It appears that the soldiers of the garrison were the prime movers.

In Rosario all is quiet, if we except one or two petty difficulties, such as the merchants growing against the consequences of the new law of the comptroller of customs for some new regulations about deposits.

The Entre Rios elections take place on Sunday next, and are expected to be hotly contested. Catamarca is busily engaged with the approaching elections, which promise to pass off quietly.

EUROPEAN FLEETS IN FOREIGN PORTS.

In expectation of an European war, the Russian fleet which was paying a visit to the United States had gone up to the Potomac.

It is generally supposed that this movement is intended to leave the Muscovite fleet free in case of a war between France and Russia. The latter nation learned a severe lesson during the war of 1854-5.

D. Pedro Calderon received a letter from Mr. M. G. Mulhall, dated on board the steamer Fernambuco, which was read for the Association, and a vote of thanks was passed to you for your generosity.

As you are aware, our first plantation comprised 10,000 hills. The drought which ensued, coupled with a severe frost, caused us to lose the greater part, reducing our plantation to about 5,000 hills.

Our plantation covers 24 squares (81 acres) of ground, but next year we will increase it four-fold. A few days hence we will begin fencing and ploughing a tract of 80 squares, comprising the whole of the present of Villa Urquiza.

Such as cause any disturbance in the said direction, movements with the Supreme Court, the Courts of the Judges of the Section, or in any meeting for the election of Government employees, will be adjudged to four months imprisonment, or be fined twenty-eight hundred dollars.

Those who may be found guilty of falsifying, in any election, the list of voters, or voters names, or otherwise tampering with the election returns, will be liable to imprisonment for six months or three years, or to a fine of from 100 to 500 hundred dollars.

Any one presenting himself at the voting table, and not having in his pocket 20 to 100 hundred dollars, independent of the punishment for carrying arms.

Those who may steal or make away with any election documents with intent of imprisonment, with hard labour, of one to three years, or be fined 1000 hundred dollars.

ANGLO-ARGENTINE PUBLICATIONS.

The second number of the 'River Plate Magazine' is a great improvement on the former month. The History of La Plata (chap. 2 to 4) comes down to Cabot's Expedition. Admiral Brown's Biography concludes; but not translated with sufficient elegance.

Consul Hutchinson's Paper on the Chaco and other Indians, throws some light on those unknown people; it is furnished with a wood engraving. 'Ruins of a Tolderia,' but we hear some exceptions to various statements. Mr. H. has entirely omitted the famous Matucos, and has done little justice to the Jesuits.

Fountain's Abbey is a pretty sonnet, by one of our fair British readers, giving an example that deserves imitation. J. K. contributes a critical review of Barros Arana Spanish, and the Indian tongues; his definition of the Quichua word 'china' is incorrect; otherwise it is very good.

Amongst other tributes to a very appropriate on the influence of mothers on education. The Italian element in Buenos Ayres is also treated in a masterly manner. 'Foreigners and State' winds up an excellent assortment of articles. We had almost forgotten the 'Pampa Gras,' nicely illustrated; there can be no doubt that the publication, great from its national character and local interest, really deserves public protection on the grounds of its literary merit, but we advise the editor to correct his proofs.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Defeat - The Colorado troops have completely routed Colonel Obil in the neighbourhood of Rocha, thus riding Herrero of one more enemy. Of a train Berro's chronicle is not a bed of roses without their corresponding thorns.

Accident - While playing croquet a young child, Comandante Uricola, fell from the roof of a house and broke one of his legs. Although we have not heard the particulars of any other misfortunes, it is not at all probable that the semi-litigious pastime of playing croquet has passed over without some serious accidents.

Montevideo - By a sailing vessel we learn that Flores was at Montevideo, twenty leagues from Montevideo. His scouts had advanced as far as Santa Lucia. His army is now supposed to amount to 1500 men. The National Guard of Florida had been summoned to cantonments, and the state of general fright is something awful. All the bravados of former days have ceased.

Maritime - Last week the pilot boat Angelito arrived in Montevideo, having on board Captain J. B. Starr and four sailors of the American Ship Ocean Steed, which was bound from Cardiff to that port, and was reduced to a wreck. She struck on the morning of the 6th inst., on the Punta de Rocha, and it is feared that she will be a total loss.

The Latest Fitch of Montevideo - Some few days ago a poor unfortunate was arrested on the charge of forging Argentine money. To what extremities must he be reduced, if he could be tempted to commit so base an action! The poor man whistles in presence of the robbers, used to be a favourite saying with paupers, and till now we really fancied that the utter worthlessness of Buenos Ayres paper dollars would have been their best protection, but it seems not.

St. Petersburg - Sunday will be the feast of this saint, and a great one is associated with 'billets-doux,' cupid's darts, and other amatory devices. The day, however, is unknown to Argentines, and even forgotten among our British community.

General Hornos - Here is no longer any doubt that this gentleman has come to the same conclusion as myself, that it matters not a paper dollar which candidates win. The Public has a romantic article accounting for Hornos's desertion from the post of president of the Pueblo Club, but the fact is, he was disgusted with B. Arana politics, and has wisely retired to one's quietly at Uruguayana, near Entre Rios.

Immigrants - On Monday half the whole boats in the river were busy juggling ashore some hundreds of Italian immigrants; the Male was absolutely covered with boxes. Belonging to our newly adopted fellow-citizens.

Dangerous Sport - During the playing of Carnival on Sunday last, one indignant stranger, who was stopping in one of our fashionable hotels, hung a bottle of ale out of his window across the street, 'by way of a bit of fun.' The bottle cut through the window, and burst like a shell on the floor of the room, to the small astonishment of the occupants. A duel, it is said, is likely to ensue from the affair. Caution, we understand, has been applied, but the intrepid Carnival player was found missing.

Passengers for Montevideo - In consequence of the great number of loose and suspicious characters who have of late been flocking to the Oriental Republic, that from this time forward, all persons who may land at Montevideo must present themselves at once at the police court.

Total Quarrel - During carnival one of the 1st of the line of Artillery quarrelled and fought with a companion in Calle San Martin. The soldier killed his antagonist with his rifle, but, however, without being wounded.

English Packet - The Mercury did not arrive yesterday, but will probably do so to-day. It has not omitted the news from Europe, waiting her arrival.

Colonel Crawley - We have seen a copy of the 'Times' of Dec 24th, in which the sentence of the court martial, pronounced by the Queen. He is acquitted on all counts, and the witnesses severely reprimanded. All the officers of the regiment are to be exchanged.

Gravelly keeps his command, and Sergeant Lilly in his comfortable grave, must feel that justice has been done him.

The Money - This steamer, by her last trip to Montevideo, got out of port when only ten leagues short of that port, and had to land her passengers on a part of the B. Ayres coast.

Imports - The decline noted in review for January 10th has continued still further, and prices may be said to be nominal, at 7 rs. per fanega, and every sign of a greater fall.

Wines - Two cargoes, Spanish, reached prices below last quotation; French, on the contrary, is sensibly improving.

Commercial Review - The sales of Saladero ox and cow hides during the last fifteen days are 29,403 ox hides at 30 1/2 to 37 1/2 rs.

Maritime News - Liverpool, English barque Kestrel, Assencion, Paraguay steamer Igurey, Calliz, American lugger Gem.

For Now York - The A 14 English Clipper Barque "CARLOTA," 809 tons register - Captain Wilkins.
