THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1864.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

The festival of the Apostle of Ireland again comes round, and claims the cordial salutation of Christendom in general, and of Irishmen in particular. Nor are there many countries where the name and memory of St. Patrick are not reverently celebrated...

Manikud accepts as one of its greatest heresies the mission which converted that country which subsequently carried the title of Island of Saints, and alone as a lamp of learning in the dark ages...

Alas! the ruin and desolation of Ireland is not due to foreign agency but to the divisions and dissensions of Irishmen. The emblem of unity which St. Patrick chose to represent the Irish Trinity we wear in our hats but not in our hearts...

Last year our humble celebration in Buenos Ayres was re-echoed from London to Melbourne. The same sentiments then expressed, caused a thrill of friendly recognition in Canada, the United States, Ireland, and elsewhere...

ARGENTINE ARMY.

The following tabular statement of the regular forces of the Republic, extracted from the Ferrocarril, will show what a very inefficient army the National Executive counts on for the maintenance of order in a country half the size of Europe...

Table with columns: Reg., Division, Commander, Strength. Lists units like 1st Mendoza, 2nd Trilite Mauret, 3rd Rojas, etc.

though in a military point his conduct may be wrong, still it is to be regretted that when Flores invaded his native country there were not more men of the same stamp as the son of the respected Mr. Haldy.

We notice, in the 'Tribuna' of yesterday, a question put to Mr. Solviera, as to the publication of his 'diocesan' for last year. We believe that our talented friend would more than be able to do so at present with his new paper.

The Jefe de Paz of Magdalena, we hear, is one of the best in the country. All the murders and ruffians in his jurisdicción has taken office. We hope that the neighbours will assist this model judge in protecting life and property.

We have received from England, per last packet, circulars and prospectuses of a new description of machinery, invented by Mr. W. Wanklyn, who, we believe, is brother to the distinguished River Tiste broker, so well and universally known amongst us.

Twelve sheep came out in the packet for Messrs. Getting and Co. The number of imported sheep, we perceive, is daily increasing.

Mr. Thomas Gowan, the popular auctioneer, will sell, on Friday next, 194 boxes of red Irish whiskey, ex-London, from Dublin.

Finally arrangements were made with a confectioner in Flores or Moron, and on last Sunday this extraordinary party came off.

The burning of the currency was the subject of discussion. We heard at least so it was rumoured, that an arrangement has at last been made by the Minister for the regular burning each month of the paper money.

The flour mills all through the country are at present working very hard. Our advice from the camp are not to be taken, as what is very abundant, particularly in the Province of Buenos Ayres.

Scrambled by the sloping hills of Moon, and surrounded by numerous old bullock-carts and filled-up ditches, outside the dusty mountain village of San Martin.

nevertheless the town was going ahead, 'la Chacaburga' for the last few years. A hotel had opened in the main delirious hope that visitors would come, but not one even auctioneer; went out there in the morning of San Martin's existence, but they were all done up.

In these days of Argentine go-aheadness, however, I am proud to say, that no matter how great the emergency, there are always found men who, with the most meticulous intentions, and instigated by motives which are latent in the breast of every patriot, come forward at the eleventh hour to save their country's honor and prosperity.

We regret to see that our old friend Rodriguez, the diligence man, is about to be sold off. This gentleman, for a long period, carried the 'Standard' to many parts of the camp for us, and sincerely sympathized with him in his troubles, which have been mainly caused by the drought.

hand played something like 'pop goes the weasel,' the milk-men some horrible Pyrenean bit the sun was awful. At last the train arrived, and the almost melted Governor with his perspiring Ministers departed for town.

Another special meeting of the Corporation was held on January 6th, to consider the important question whether the statue of the Liberator should be left in the niche it occupies at the side of the City Hall, or be promoted to a more commanding position in the centre.

The Federal agents are persevering in their endeavors to fill the thinned ranks of the American armies with the youths of Ireland. One of these persons has been pursuing his avocations in Galway for the last week with considerable success.

10s. a week. The simultaneous growth of wealth and population was, no doubt, the model idea of a flourishing State. He would not appear at the post of Goldsmith, who said -

He thought the land would fare worse if the reverse were the case - if men accumulated and wealth decayed. Here the noble lord was interrupted with loud cries of 'no, no.'

His Excellency then rose and proposed the health of the Lord Mayor, and complimented him on having set a bright example to every young man in Ireland, for his expansive hospitality and significant entertainment.
