EGITOR'S TABLE. Things could not be much dulle about town than at present. People are so heartily sick of the crudo and cocido fight that only in the rendezvous in the Calle Florida trastienda is the subject talked of. The 'Tribuna' is so hard up for news that it actually pub lishes the news about the zine holivianes which we gave to our readers only ten days ago. The 'Nacional' publishes some trashy story about five big ships having left England with rails for the Cordova Railway, when the truth is that the very iron is not manufactured yet; but really fresh news (we hope our readers will excuse us for so saying) is only to be found in the 'Stan dard.' As proof of this not one word appeared in any of the native papers, of the Minister's promise to burn four teen millions of paper money this month, although on Friday it was the talk of all town. As our colleagues seem so monstrously hard up, we publish a few lines in Spanish to-day which they are at full liberty to cut out and reproduce. We asked until we were tired to have the President's speeches at the inauguration of the Southern Railway published in Spanish. " Since the mountain won't come to Maliommed, why Mahommed must go to the mountain." On every post and pillar in town we shall paste up President Mitre's kind words on that memorable Occasion. The pistol and revolver auction is the pistot and revoiver auction is atill going on, and things are going monstrously cheap. If Flores only had a little spare cash now he might drive a good bargain, but according to rumour he is most terribty hard up for each, and Mr. Billinghurst would only sell for R. M. D.

Fray Bentos we hear is now a howling wilderness, caused by the recent inva-wilderness, caused by the recent inva-sions and counter invasions. An Eng-lishman just arrived states that half the houses are shut up, and not even a paper cigar can be got in the place. We regret sincerely to see that a fellow countryman has been mixing himself tion. It is better far for foreigners to hold aloof, and leave the belligerents to hold aloof, and leave the belligerents to flight it out themselves, but if foreigners do interfere they should always be on the side of the established Government of the country.

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

and oh where, has the public spirit gone it

I say, Mr. Editor, did you ever sing a song like that in your youth?

Well I want to know, you know, where the public spirit has gone. The sons of the Emerald Isle failed in getting up a dinner on the anniversary of that saint who cleared the land of toads ting up a dinner on the aninversary of that saint who cleared the kand of toads, and snakes, and left in their stead tithe proctors and bobbies. It can't be down heartedness on the part of the Irishmen heartedness of animulation to Colonel Faustino Lopez, who presented an order from heartedness of the prevents their being july and hone presented an order from heartedness of the prevents after, my wife died, and as I was left with hour orders after the blues, and heing recommended to wear the shirt of the most truly happy man in the world. Emissaries were sent from the supply of aniforms which poor success. They found many mode rately happy, but still their linea did not passes the proper efficacy. When giving up the search in disgust, they are demanded to the properties of certally happy, and contented. They thought their object was parted but also they found that this perfect speciates of certally happy and contented. They thought their object was parted but also they found that this perfect speciates of certally and the perfect speciates of certally and the prefect speciates of certally the process of the movements of these old times, but are still the same of the movements of consoler and three others were sent that this perfect specialed of certify happiness had no shirt to fend. Irish men have not changed much since these old times, but are still the same gay, contented people that they were before. I therefore put down the want of public spirit to the climate and diet. Englishmen (in contradistinction to Caledonians and Hibernians) are not generally easily sat upon. I therefore should like to hear if there is to be a Shakespeare meeting or not this year. Not that Shakespeare requires any such thing to endear and perpetuate his memory amongst all generations (for, as Judge Hailibutton save, "who the plague wants a monument that really deserves one?")—but still, we the General and an Scottich got up jubilees for their poets, it seems as though the public spirit were washed out of Englishmen if they fail in getting up something of the same kind for the Father of English poerry. Surely 'Touchstone's nasty, snarling, dog-in-the-manger letter has had nothing to do with putting a stonner upon the memoral of the same nasty, snarling, dog-in-the-manger letter has had nothing to do with putting a stopper upon the proposal of one of your correspondents.

Dear Mr. Editor, see if you can't lend us a helping hand in getting up a respectable Shakespeare tre-centenary meeting. There does not require to be what is called in the classical language of the Charter-house, 'a guzzling fight,' but something in the 'feast of reason and flow of soul' style.

There's a good fellow, try.

From all that can be learned, it would seem that he was not what he said, and that he had not landed from said, and that he had not landed from the Alabama, in Sat to Catharina, but he came from Hio Grande do Sul, and even further, from the River Plate, which he often mentioned in talking of his amours.

In spite of all traces of him having been lost, and his evident desire to hide his name, a most important hide his name, a most important decure to hide his name, a most important document has turned up. It was a carte de visite' of a lady, with whose husband he had had some business to transact. This photograph has upon it in German, "A & Zeuschner Atelior fur Photographie Posen lord stees that he was not suffering from pocuniary embarrassment. The revolver with which he com-mitted suicide, is marked 'Lapart, Iranao, Ko de Janeyro, No. 4421.'

MATERIAL INTERESTS To the Editors of the Standard. March 18, 1864.

Gentlemen. Gentlemen, Occasionally articles appear in one of the leading daily journals of this city, under the above heading. I alse have a few remarks to make on the same subject, if you will allow me a corner of your journal.

My mail contracts with the Govern-of the river Parana. There does not exist a single complaint against one of them, for the infringement of the first requisite for mail steamers, viz, punctuality of arrival at and departure from their various ports. Two of these incs (Gualeguay and Corriences), have left me a no inconsiderable pecuniary loss; and I have more than once been usual. urged, by valued friends, to break the flovernment contract, and place one of my best steamers on the Montevideo line, which I might have done when the river Parana was in its unprece-dented low state, but I preferred to overcome almost unsurmountable diffiovercome amost unsurmountable diffi-culties (to me expensive ones), than to break faith with the Government. My principal object in seeking publi-cation for these lines, is to assure the Minister of the Interior, if they should meet his eye, that if I have health and strength, I will yet be connected with lines of strenges, in varianting these Strange it is that, at such a distance Strange it is that, at such a distance from Buenos Ayres, people think more of wheat and maize than of sheep, but so it is, between San Nicolas and Pergamino there are here and there green patches, where it is easy to be seen wheat has been grown; the lands are not so undulating or high as I expected to see, but the short tough spiry grass which covers the entire camps testifies to their unalloyed virguity. I enouized to see, but the short tough spiry grass which covers the entire camps testifies to their unalloyed virginity. I enquired for the estancia of Sr. Martinez, but as every second man in the neighbourhood bore this cuphonious patronymic. I found great difficulty in fluding Don Jaime's place. After frequent and long interrogatories I discovered that the Martinez in question resided some 2" leagues farther out, but as the Govern ment caballada was hard by I was told that if I wished to pay a few paper dollars I would be put on the ground. Having agreed to the required sum, off I started on a horse with one car, accompanied by a rather odd specimen of a retired military man. The individual in question stated that he owed all his misfortunes to two causes, first having no consul to protect him, and eccoulty having a country to protect. Since fifteen years of age he had been in service, but for whom or what he was fighting he never yet could find out. We passed through the town of Pergamino, which certainly has more palengee posts tian inhabitunts. Pergamino, which certainly has more palenque posts than inhabitants, and crossed out to a place called San Vicente, utterly descrited and uninha bited. These lands I am told have gone up greatly in value, but whatever price is put upon them is su, erficial; price is put upon them is su, erficial; for sheep-farming they are even worse than those of Pavon or the Arroyo Medio. Long strong grass interspersed with that poisonous weed, mio mio, destitute of water, I am certainly at a loss to know what could give increased value to such lands. Several Irish farmers I was told had bought land regardly down now. Pairs which is for cently down near Rojas, which is far superior camp to that of Pergamino in as much as cattle have been many years on the Rajas camps and caten down the coarse grass. My heart sunk within me as with my disfigured guide and on my one-carrel horse I started in the direction of a place called the Lona Negra. Towards evening we came upon a sort of and fortress, which excited my fears still more; we stopped the night at this place, which belonged to a Colonel or Major Lopez, who I believe is an officer on the frontier. In the morning I faced the pages, and at the morning I faced the pampa, and at last, towards noon, arrived at Martinez's.

So thoroughly disgusted at such Indian territory, if Martinez offered me his estancia for nothing. I would not take it; he however had very different views, and coupling peace with all his remarks I was led to believe that in a few years the virgin camps of Perga-mino would be worth more than those mino would be worth more than those of Luxan at peecent. Twenty thousand dols, per 'accion' was the lowest figure I could hear for these camps; the proprietors as a general rule are military men. General Vitre, brother to the President, has an estaucia out so newberg about these, larger than the where about there, larger than the province of Leinster. Satisfied that these extraordinary rich lands were utterly unsuited for me, I started for home coming from post to post until I arrived at Giles. On the road I met with hundreds of my countrymen moving off, for God knows where; as a

HORRIBLE MURDER

Trial of Francisco Tolosa Verdict Si Gailty

Sentenced to be Executed Shot in Labor

The full particulars, repecting the murder of a beautiful young girl in Lobos, by her own cousin, has at last been made public. It appears that the assassin was her accepted lover, but unfortunately some dispute or jealousy arose, and Francisca Tolosa refused to marry Francisco, who thereupon determined to murder her. He accordingly went as usual to her mother's house one ovening to visit his cousin, and whilst taking mate with the family, caught the young girl by the arm stabled her fearfully in the lungs (ten inches deep), and cut her in the arm; he then left the house, went straight to the Policia in Lobos, stated what he, had cone, and demanded to be put in irons. The murder was committed on the 18th November, and it speaks volumes for the state of our judiciary, when, with the confession of the prisoner, the case was not decided for Jour months! After a tedious trial he was convicted, and condemed to ha house one evening to visit his cousin, was convicted, and condemed to be shot in Jobes, 14 hours after he artived out there. The sentence was carried into execution, we believe, early last Tuesday morning.

En contestacion al brindis del Sar. Parish, por SS. EB. el Presidente y el Gobernador, el General Mitre dijo:—

Al contestar el cordial saludo del caba llero que preside, dirijido a todos los huespedes, siento que no puede considerar à los estranteros amigos aquí presentes como huespedes en este país. Ani-porque todos los miembros de la fami-lia humana que desembarcan en nues-tras costas son algo mas; son nuestros hermanos. Vienen à vivir entre nos hormanos. Vienen à vivir entre nos otros y á desarollar los recursos de pais, mezclando la sangre con la nues tra. Traen un contingente de capital è inteligencia y aunque no entregan su vida en los campos de batalla, trabajan vida on los campos de batalla, trabajan incasantemente, por la industria y el progreso de la República. En contes tacion á la cortesia del Presidente voy à brindar à la simbilización de todas las virtudes y á la realidad de la libertad, brindo à la ilustre Reina-Victoria que represente en su persona no solo todos las cualidades que adornan el corazon de la major sinó tan bien aquellas insticiones imperecederas de la libertad tan dignas de la gran nacion Inglesa (applatosa estraordinarios). Habiendone tocado en parte los sentimientos que tocado en parte los sentimientos que se acaban de espresar, me veo obligado se manar de espresar me e considero de decir que en esto acto me considero solamente el représentante de los diguis caballeros que me han ayudado. Como el general que se coronaba en presencia de sus soldados, diciendo, " mis soldados no sus sonados, decendo, " mis sonados lo hau gamado y yo lo accepto en su nombre," mo veo como si fuese encargado de recibir los felicitaciones dirijidas al pueblo. Pero cual es la fuerra que produce este triumfo? [5: el capital Ingles. No há mucho que las lanzas de puestros enemigos redeaban la ciudad y la libertal quando ches el zas de nuestros cuemigos redeaban la ciudad y la libertad ganado sobre el campo de batalla, crecia como un urbol y derramaba por todas partes sus frutos dorados. La paz despues de tantas fuchas se radico, y ahora el capital estrangero se derrama sobre nuestro suelo favorecido para hacer que esa poz sea fructifera. Descarra que esta copa fuera de oro, no para adorarla como el ternero de oro de la antiguedad, sinó como el tiento de las relaciones amistosas entre la Inglaterra y el Rio de la Plata, porque la Inglaterra y el Rio de la Plata, porque la Inglaterra pla sido nuestra mejor amiga en la guerra de la independencia. Nadie ba escrito todavia la historia del capitat Inglás y sin embazgo es un gran personaje. En 1806 los ingles, s trajeron el hierro, el acere y el plomo 6 i uenos Ayrea pero solo y el plomo à l'uenos Ayres pero solo consiguieron hacer cerrer sangre humana. Despues vinieron con mercade rias y tuvieron que fortalecerse, las paredes de la adman para soportar el pero del oro que produjuron. En 1820 los patriotas estaban reducidos é la miseria, natie queria prestar na peso, peto-se presentó la Inglaterra y dijo "tomad lo que necesiteis," Así nos salváms s, porque cuando los Argentinos mismos so relumaban a dar fondos, la Inglaterra pos mande cinca militares de librar establicas de libra nos mando cinco millones de libras es-rerlinas. Verdaderamento el capital ligles es un gran personaje. Unos po-cos luglesca arroyados fundaron los Ex-tados Unidos do Norte America. El cos ingressos arrosatos tundaron los Ri-tados Unidos do Norte America. El Capitan Cook fué el primero que pobló de cabras el Oceano Pacilleo y ahora la Australia derrama sus tesoros immensos à los pies de la Gran Bretafia. Media docena de comerciantes comentaron ese comercio con Madras y la China, que abrió las puertas del Oriente à la domi-nucion inglesa. Descaria una copa de o, no para cantar las alabanzas de la data desde la cuna de la prandezat in-data desde la cuna de la prandezat in-glesa.
