EDITOR'S TABLE.

We have no political review for this week's edition; it would be well if Argentina could leave the past fortnight an untroubled blank in their history. Which of our European readers care to share about Crispien's heroism, or Valera's integrity?

Although the public alarm has calmed down there is every prospect of a disturbance. We learn on the most undoubted authority that two regiments of arms were despatched on Sunday morning in the rendezvous of the Cordero, calle Tucumán. Both National and Provincial Governments seem to acquiesce in the arming of the rival factions. We shall see the consequences.

We are told that some of the natives of the Western Railway, in pay of the Cordero Provincial Government, are not so enthusiastic about fighting, although they go through the streets with knives and pistols. They have been forced to abandon the spade and wheelbarrow, under penalty of dismissal, and any remaining qualms of conscience are silenced with liquor. The National Government has adopted the same barbarous warfare, all the Custom-house porters being drafted off to swell the Cordero ranks, and it is said they will not return to business for a week. We envy B. Ayres has fallen to the lowest depths of degradation.

The disabled Anglo-Argentine veteran, Michael Morgan, is likely to receive more from private sympathy than Government reward: after a delay of 30 years the War-office gave him 300 paper dollars (20 shillings). We have already received for him $185, some anonymous friend having enclosed us the liberal donation of $100.

"There was an opinion on Sunday night 'I'll be on my feet,' but we were afraid to attend, the streets being quite unsafe at midnight and even earlier. See the list of outrages in another column."

It is thought we shall have no more street-rioting on bloodshed, until Thursday 2nd inst., this being the day fixed for swearing in the new deputies on whom depend the hopes and fears of all who are foolish enough to trouble themselves about the estados of the Republic of the South American States.

The policeman Dist. accused of having brutally killed Mr. Charles Connel of Villa Mercedes has been brought into the Cordero prison for trial. It seems the fellow had a very pleasant life in the people, custody imposed on him at Mercedes, where he has influential 'compadres,' where he has influential 'compadres,' where he has influential 'compadres.'

The establishment of this colony will secure the southern frontier from the stealing incursions of the Indians. A bill will be presented in May to the Provincial Chambers for the payment in full of the provincial debt, about a hundred and twenty thousand dollars, by means of treasury notes bearing six per cent interest, and receivable in payment of public lands in various parts of the province and which will be offered in lots for sale every two or three months.

The National Government has commenced operations on the route in the province of a large amount of material for artesian wells, to be bored along the roads in Rioja where traffic is hindered by want of water, has been already despatched from Rosario.

Mr. Ayres, member for Catamarca, commissioned by the government to inform on the practicability of opening new roads, has made very voluminous reports.

The political affairs of the provinces are becoming more satisfactory. In the principal provinces everything is quiet and orderly. Catamarca only remains as a foul blot on the fair face of the Confederation. The disgraceful government of that beautiful province still remains in power; and the people, formerly industrious and happy, are fast subsiding into an abject and indolent slavery.

Some troops towards the Corrientes frontier, and the Argentine republic is at present hardly able to resist it has the step. Some people think it will become serious: we do not.

On yesterday was published 'The Cotton-fields of Paraguay and Corrientes,' of which we sent 20 copies to the Manchester Ship Association. It contains, besides the letters published in 'The Standard,' some further description of those countries, comprising 14 pages, bound in card, price $2. On sale at Messrs. Mackay's, and at this office.

The Danish Consul has favoured us with a copy of the blockade regulations of some part of Denmark, but as we do not understand High Dutch, much less Danish, we are at a loss as to the nature of the specifications.

The 'Cgo. a. Eliseo' of Montevideo will take place tonight. It is well worth looking.

We again bid adieu to Mr. Mosses. After 14 months, the other passengers leaving us this morn'g, and wish them a pleasant voyage home.

STATE OF THE INTERIOR (From the Ferro-Carril.)

The event of most importance for the Province is the new brought by the last steamer of the happy termination of the difficulties which appeared to beset the Great Central Railway. We have been raised from dependency by the gratifying intelligence that the road has been contracted for by the great firm of Brassey and Co., at the rate of five thousand four hundred pounds per mile, and that the company will be presented to the public under the happiest auspices.

The workmen on the ten miles of embankment already made, are at work on the cuttings, three of which are already finished, leaving only two to make to put this portion of the line in a state to receive the rails.

The province of Santa Fe still remains a model of good order and regular Government; and if not of great progress we certainly have no cause to be dissatisfied when we witness the little progress made by the other provinces on whose welfare and commercial prosperity that of Rosario in a great measure depends.

The town has been busy transferring large quantities of merchandise to the interior. We have to regret that Rosario is so poorly off for large importing houses that the greater part of the goods despatched to the interior are purchased duty paid in Buenos Ayres.

For this reason the ingress into our custom house for the first three months of the year only amounts to ninety odd thousand dollars, which should be the monthly receipts of duties.

This state of things is very galling of course, for people see in it the practical carrying out of the Buenos Ayres doctrine, which is to make the custom house monopolise all the duties raised in the country.

Should another separation between Buenos Ayres and the Provinces take place, it will be altogether owing to the odious principle of the statement of the sister province, will persist in the provinces enhance the prosperity of Buenos Ayres. Such an absurd notion can only have taken its rise from political passion.

The Governor Delegate of Santa Fe, Mr. Ovando, who is no member of Congress, has just returned to the capital of the province after a long visit to the Department of Rosario, where his presence has been of great service.

Through his instrumentality and activity a new colony has been planted on the Corrientes river, about seventy miles from Rosario and within ten or twelve miles from the life of railroad.

Already many families have taken up residence in this colony, where the Government grants lots of eighty acres to all comers.

The establishment of this colony will secure the southern frontier from the stealing incursions of the Indians. A bill will be presented in May to the Provincial Chambers for the payment in full of the provincial debt, about a hundred and twenty thousand dollars, by means of treasury notes bearing six per cent interest, and receivable in payment of public lands in various parts of the province and which will be offered in lots for sale every two or three months.

The National Government has commenced operations on the route in the province of a large amount of material for artesian wells, to be bored along the roads in Rioja where traffic is hindered by want of water, has been already despatched from Rosario.

Coronel's is happily delivered from her intestine troubles. The government of Mr. Ferrer is finally established and all opposition has ceased; and the enthusiasm which will be created there by the favorable news in reference to the railroad will tend indubitably to allay party feeling.

The mistaken policy of the Government, giving such exorbitant salaries to members of Congress, has been the cause of many scandals in the province. The consequence has been disgraceful fights over the apportionment, and the sending to Congress of men entirely unfit for that high office: men who only waste themselves and the province they represent, ridiculous.

Many patriotic members intend during this session to try to modify the law which gives them so much of the public money and causes such constant fermentation.

San Juan and Mendoza are "going ahead" in a fair way. The mines of the former are proving every day richer and richer.

The report according to Mr. Meigs of Chile, giving a circumstantial account of the discovery of a pass in the Andes by which a railroad may be easily thrown across the Cordillera, has created a great sensation.

The elections in Santa Fe and in Entre Rios have passed over in the quietest manner possible, there not having been a single row.

In Salta the elections were rather violent, but nothing serious occurred. In Tucuman there has been felt a series of earthquakes, but of an innocuous character. No damage is reported as having been suffered.

Our sugar crop of Tucuman this year has been upwards of one hundred thousand arrobas, or twenty five thousand hundred-weight. The sugar produced is equal to the best white Pernambuco, and sells at twelve dollars the quintal.

Tucuman might easily produce enough sugar and tobacco of a very superior quality, not only for the wants of the Republic, but for exportation.

The Government has not yet decided for the National Exhibition, but we have strong hopes it will soon do so, as the eminent Minister of the Interior approves the idea.

Within two or three weeks will be published a little work on the origin and progress of the colonies of Santa Fe, in Spanish and English, which will give an insight into the water in the idea of what the emigrant may expect to do in this country, delineated in the social picture contained in the little work referred to.

REIGN OF TERROR.

The 'Pueblo' exaggerates the number of what it calls 'assassinations' (killing at election riots is not generally called murder but manslaughter). The total killed in the last three days does not amount to three. The wounded are about 15, few seriously. Mr. Bihini was shot in the fleshy part of the arm, and is recovering. Carl Laque is said to have died. D. Adolfo Avela was not hurt. D. Hector Varela received no injury except to his lungs, from shooting. Mr. Gibson, the English tailor, narrowly escaped being shot. Monsieur Bonnemaison was more frightened than hurt, by the spent ball.

We do not know whether the fellow who stabbed the crime minister is in prison. Colonel Garcia's brother was released on Saturday morning. Colonel Garcia has been dismissed the Argentine service on an accusation of being a ring-leader among the Gralio m-b. Some of the police-commissioners are said to have patronised the crowd of bandits, boys, and if Mr. Mito and his lawyer come, why let them? Several of the Corderos are said to have justified the epithet 'Hottentots' by shooting 'Down with Savatras! harra for Rosa!'

On Friday night some mad caps drove through town firing revolvers out the coach windows. It was, probably, to celebrate the fact that three men fired into a coach at the corner of Defensa and Comercio; the occupants Sir Arystoxy and 3 friends were unhurt, but we read that one ball passed between their heads. The Pueblo states that it is unsafe to approach the Western railway terminus, owing to the number of drunken servants and waiters who have recently protested popular rights.

For the last three nights we have noticed several wicked-looking fellows standing at the street corners: these individuals are technically called 'compadres,' and being now armed form a striking feature of the Reign of Terror.

CEREMONY AT MERLO.

On Sunday Mr. John Hood was received into the Roman Catholic Church, at Merlo, receiving the usual conditional baptism at the hands of Rev. P. J. Dillon. The acolyte, an American citizen, had belonged, we believe, to the Episcopal sect of reformed Christians, and acquired the rudiments of Catholic doctrine from the worthy Irish priest of the district.

If it may not be amiss to explain to our readers that the Catholic Church holds baptism to be valid, whether conferred by priest or layman, Christian or Mahometan. Yet in the case of Protestants a doubt always arises as to not hold the necessity of baptism for salvation, and their clergy-men are not in all cases particular about pouring water on the neophyte's head. For this reason Catholic converts are conditionally baptised.

Mr. Hood was baptised, immediately before High Mass, by the Rev. Mr. Dillon, assisted by the Rev. F. Romero and another native priest. Mr. and Mrs. Coffin of Merlo acted as sponsors for their countryman, the ceremony being performed at the high altar. High Mass was sung with due solemnity by the parish priest of Merlo, and the services of some professional singers from Buenos Ayres had been secured for the occasion. After the Gospel, the Rev. Mr. Dillon ascended the pulpit and delivered a short discourse in Spanish, begging the presence of his auditory in case of any inequalities of climate (as this gentleman only came to the country a few months ago). He then cursed permission to address his countrymen in English, pronouncing them as impressive and appropriate exhortation.

After Mass service the sponsors and friends partook of some refreshment at the house of Father Dillon.

RIO NEGRO.

We have the 'Eco' of Mercedes to Sunday, 24th inst., Colon Perez's division, surnamed 'brilliant,' is encamped near Dacia, preparing to set out in search of the rebels. Communication with Montevideo seems cut off, by the drought: the last diligence was seven days overdue, and no tidings of it. It is thought a garrison will be placed in Fort Denton, mounting some pieces of artillery, to prevent the Colorados from making their rendezvous to and from Buenos Ayres. On the 18th two rebel stragglers were captured near Mercedes, and handed over to the authorities: they belonged to the famous band of Berroa. Col. Oliveira has been sent to scour the department of El Estero, with two squadrons of cavalry. The new steamer La Esmeralda is expected to make her first trip up the Uruguay, on Monday, May 2nd. The owners of the Salto have got a patent for a packet-boat to Montevideo, on condition that she run a small steamer, say Myreles and Yaguajay. This will be a great advantage to the Rio Negro. Mr. John Philip Bitter announces under date April 24th, that he has opened two branches, Bank of Mass and Co., at Mercedes.

THE BELGRANO RACES.

Challenges of the Racer Belgrano. The races on Sunday, we are informed, were a miserable failure. Perhaps, owing to the bad weather, the attendance was so poor, no ladies being present, and only a sprinkling of professional turfites. The first race came off at 1 p.m., and the winner was the tortoise 'Montecristo.' The second was a shabby affair; we have not heard which came in last.

The famous racer Belgrano paced to and fro in front of the grand stand, challenging all horses, native or foreign, to run half, or a whole, round, for any amount. No one took up the challenge, and Belgrano retired without having found a competitor.

We have to advise the turf in general that Belgrano has been sold, and will soon leave for Brazil. The same challenge is therefore held open for eight days more, in order to give all racers a chance of testing once again the speed and qualities of the champion.

Some wine and cold meat were consumed on the ground, last Sunday, but no money, of any account, changed hands. The stewards looked very 'triste,' and the whole thing was exceedingly slow. We have not heard of any disorder, intoxication, or enthusiasm.

The Oriental 'Salferino,' winner of two races and loser of one on the Sunday previous, was not of the ground. Perhaps his owners will take up Belgrano's challenge.

THE CLUB WAR.

Agitation in Town. The National official paper, 'Nacion Argentina,' published yesterday an alarming supplement, calling upon the citizens to attend the funeral of Captain Laque. This gentleman had been shot in Friday's riot, receiving a ball in the abdomen, and of course there was no hope of his recovery: he died on yesterday morning at his residence, near the Concepcion Church, and his remains were conveyed to the Recoleta Cemetery by an immense crowd of countrymen—in fact, his funeral was quite a political demonstration.

A number of inflammatory harangues were delivered over the grave, and it was feared that a dangerous excitement of feeling would be exhibited. Today and to-morrow, will, perhaps, pass off quietly, but we fear serious disturbances before the end of the week.

The Police has ordered a Sumario or process to be made out against those implicated in Friday's riots. This step will likely prove a mere sham. It is said that President Mitre has extremely told the Cordero leaders that he will not recede with a strong arm any disorders by the members of either Club.

THE CIVIL MEDICAL CHURCH.

We have received the second number of this medical periodical. The 'Fortnightly review' is anything but pleasant to nervous-minded folks: it says that the public sanitary state is not the most flattering; dysentery is very prevalent, and, in the opinion of most of our medical men, it assumes grave character.

The cause of this is attributed to the villainous state of the beef brought to this market, and the Review strongly advocates the appointment of a society of veterinarians to examine the animals. The review touchingly remarks that "this scheme, like many other good ones, has remained nipped in the bud."

The second article is a few extracts from the pen of that indefatigable scholar, Dr. Burmeister on meteorological observations made in Buenos Ayres, and to any who may feel inclined to examine to what extent he gets wet (not content with the simple fact of being wet) it will be very interesting.

The rest of the periodical is so very 'facytist' that it cannot be of the slightest interest to the general public.

ST. PATRICK'S COLLEGE, SAN JOSE DE FLORIO.

On Monday last the above popular academy was honored by a visit from his Lordship the Bishop, who thus by his presence graciously evinced the warm interest he took in the advancement—not alone of our Irish College, but of every establishment calculated to impart a sound practical education to the rising generation.

At a former visit to the College in Lohas, he expressed great pleasure at the very forward state of the school, and whilst congratulating the learned principal, Dr. Fitzsimons, on the success which had attended his efforts, kindly suggested that he should be happy to have the College nearer town in order that he might personally superintend and patronise an establishment so worthy of support.

Hence he appeared delighted at the splendid mansion and grounds now occupied by Dr. Fitzsimons, as like wise at the large increase of students which now number near 50.

The existence of such a college in this country and in the hands of gentlemen high in their arduous profession is a boon which we are sure our countrymen will not fail to appreciate. Flores is a position central to all the places and grounds are magnificent: the training of the boys is founded on a moral and religious basis—and advantages such as these, coupled with the long experience of the learned Professor cannot fail to make St. Patrick's the first academy in the Republic.

ENTRE RIOS.

We have received our usual files of newspapers from Uruguay, but, as usual, contain little or no news. Captain General Urquiza intended giving yesterday (25th inst.) a grand banquet at his house of San José in honor of his successor. All friends of his Excellency, without distinction or special invitation, were requested to attend.

A proposal had been made to Government to erect a new market in Uruguay, and it was reported that the proposal had been accepted, and the market soon commenced: $27,000 have been devoted to the scheme.

INDIAN INVASION.

The Indians have again invaded our frontier, coming down on Colonel Machado's land, at Quequen Salado, not very far from Azul: it is said the Colonel overtook them and recovered 300 head of cattle. Major Ortiz writes from Sauce de Urubidá, complaining of the justice of peace refusing him assistance against the savages. The one is Grulo, the other Cordero, and the Indians laugh at both.

MORGAN'S CASE.

SLEEPING.

It suggests anything but well for shipping interests in connection with the River Plate, the fact of during this month no fewer than twelve vessels have left this for foreign ports with valuable cargoes of Martin Garcia, and other 16 on the point of following their example.

Some of this latter lot have been in these beautiful waters since 30th Nov. last, and as every facility is given to make their engines in this port as long as possible, shipowners in England need not complain of want of port whence their vessels can lay snugly at anchor doing nothing, but costing money.

FREIGHTS.

England—Several charters have been let to land in the Uruguay, and higher rates have been paid. In this port there is not much offering for reeels on the berth, the steamers having the preference.

Antwerp—Salted hides for ballast are being taken at 8 per cent. per ton. Dry hides are very scarce. Sales are offering freely.

France—Great facilities prevail in shipments for the French ports.

United States—There is a great falling-off in engagements for this destination. Freight in general is a matter of good flag have lately obtained higher rates for the river. In this port, where size is not so important, rates continue unchanged. Arrivals during the month have fallen off, and the disengaged tonnage is considerably reduced; but, on the other hand, our produce season will soon be over. Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, and German flags are objected to.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Important from California—We take the following from the "Nation": "Lynchings and vigilante committees have again come into fashion in Sacramento. Monterey and Sonoma and a great number of robbers and murderers have been sent to another world. In Napa there has been a large fire, and the Indians have broken out to the north of the Salmon River, seized arms and ammunition, and killed several people. The same is happening in the South, in Mariposa County. The Salt Lake has been visited by a severe hurricane and many houses destroyed.

Sharp Justice—On Saturday night the Public announced that Colonel Garcia had been dismissed for having been visited by the rioters of Friday last.

Military Justice—One of the native newspapers of Saturday night says that the military mutiny at Tuman given off by the Edo de Cordoba. In these times it is hard to know what to believe, and we feel in the position of Dr. Johnson's acquaintance who complained of James Hewell's well known economy of truth, saying, "You can only believe what you want of what he says, and the difficulty is to find out what half."

Safe Custody—The "National" of Saturday night says "Last night there was an attack made upon the depot of the regiment under Commandante Grigera, with the intention of stealing the muskets which were there. The major of the corps saved them by depositing them in the house of the Justice of peace. He should have put the soldiers there also, to save them from damage."

San Juan—The "National" has the following for the truth of which we cannot vouch: "The Mining Company directed by Rickard, is on the point of abandoning its works, owing to the want of ore, and even perhaps being obliged to leave the property. To save the company by purchasing himself, all the plant. It is not known if the company will accept the offer."

Arrests—On Friday night, two individuals, called Santiago Lima, were taken to the police office charged with driving in a carriage along Bolívar, at 11 p.m., firing off revolvers. Through the influence of General Hornos these two Dons were set at liberty after a short confinement.

Two views of one picture—One newspaper commences an account of the disputeable case of Friday last with "The raffish revolution and acts of 1840 were repeated yesterday."

Another says, "Yesterday was a day of glory for the people of Buenos Ayres." We say: Let the end be what it will, the instruments employed were the ravens which fill the lot of cut-throats out of N. y. or King King.

Prisoner from the Camp—On Saturday evening a prisoner was brought in from the camp to the Cason Hotel heavily ironed. The nature of his offence we do not know, but suspect it must be for robbing on the wrong side; we would fain hope he is one of those fellows who have been wanted for so long a time.

The Bolivian Chile Question—The rupture of relations between Chile and Bolivia, and the refusal of Peruvian intervention have sorely distressed Peru. The Peruvian press calls it a "slight" and "Cossack diplomacy." It is really very hard that poor Chile will allow Peru, which is a century behind it in civilization, to have a finger in this pretty little pie.

Corrientes—An Italian, on the 11th inst., was murdered in Corrientes. The news of this occurrence spread like lightning through the Chaco population and in a short time the Indians, with their caiques at their head, rushed into the house of Don Francisco Sicard, known amongst them as Panchito Guaycará, demanding twelve gold ounces for the ransom of his life, or the immediate death of the delinquent, under penalty of killing all the workmen in the Chaco if the claims were resisted. There are some highly moral and edifying remarks in the "Tribuna" on the dreadful nuisance of having to execute such speedy justice, and blame poor Barbarity for this state of affairs. Heaven knows we have civilization in abundance here (revolvers and elections for half the world), and we do not in a worse pickle than the good folks of Corrientes.

Expos—On the 22d inst., the Ayre and Idea cleared out for Antwerp with 1119 bales wool, 14 do, horsehair, 7339 cowhides, 18 hides, 1800 horns, 2 tiger skins, 90 pipes tallow.

The Bahia Oriental—There seems to be now every probability of this nefarious war being at last finished by means of Brazilian intervention. Government, in the meantime, is re-fortifying the town of Canelones. On the 19th inst. there was a review in Canelones, in which 350 cavalry, including police, took part; the infantry, the weak point in the River Plate armies, only mustered 75.

ON CHANGE.

April 25th, 1864. The Bolea is not free from the general uneasy feeling, and specious rises. 15-day potatoes opened at 28 90, and after divers fluctuations closed at same figure. The amount drawn by this packet exceeds $200,000, including the amount of interest for Messrs. Baring brothers ($245,000) in payment of the English bonds. Some quotations are 60s on England, but most are at 67.

A large quantity of wool is now coming in from the South and West camps. The other items of produce will be found in our commercial review.
