

The Standard

Ficha Bibliográfica

Título:	The Standard
Variante del Título:	The Standard and the River Plate News
Número de Edición:	691
Fecha de Publicación:	1864-05-05
Lengua:	Ingles
Creador:	Edward Mulhall y Michael Muhall
Tipo de Recurso:	Periodico

RECAPITULATION TO THE STANDARD

430 PER MONTH.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Not exceeding six lines inserted three times for $5.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Whatever is intended for insertion must be authenticated by the name and address of the contributor, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The Standard.

"All paid address all verbi non solum dicitur."—Oleiro.

THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1864.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

We hold that there is nothing more requisite in the River Plate, yet nothing less studied than political economy. With a revenue supply sufficient for everything, and resources of no ordinary nature, the Argentine Republic is continually struggling in an embarrassed trader, head and ears in debt, doing its best to keep up appearances, but unable in the long run to make both ends meet. If things go on as they are going, we all know how the matter must end, either the National Government will become hopelessly bankrupt, or some fine day the Minister of Finance will be brought before the Federal Court, and run the chance of being put into the Debtor's prison. What will our European readers think of this country, where they read that the Government has been obliged to make a loan with the merchants for a trifle of three hundred thousand pounds, at the enormous and we may say usurious interest of eighteen per cent per annum, and obliged at the same time to hypothecate as collateral security for the payment of said loan the duties received at the Custom-house?

There is something so truly touching in the poverty of an administration obliged to succumb to such terms, that we feel for President Mitre and his Government.

But if we look into the books of the Government, if we inspect the accounts of the executive, do we not discover the real cause of all this mendacity?

We fear indeed that the National Government cannot clear itself from the charge of being most scandalously extravagant.

The Custom-house of Buenos Ayres is, as we are informed, so shockingly mismanaged that the collection of the duties costs the Government positively 33 per cent of its returns. Was ever such unheard of extravagance known?

Again, the Argentine army, small though it is, costs the Government not only more than it is worth, but more than the Government can afford to pay, simply because the whole military and executive system is rotten at the core. In many countries Europe we find no doubt that soldiers have nothing more to do than to attend their drill, and keep their arms in order, but in a new country like this, President Mitre should imitate the example of President Lopez of Paraguay, and make the army self-supporting—the soldiers instead of being maintained in a demoralized state of idleness should be made to work, if not for the Government then at least for themselves; it would have a most beneficial effect on these men if this reform was introduced.

We have at present hundreds of men passing days and months in idleness in garrison at Martín García, when by right they should be employed in sowing rice in the islands in front. Even in this very city have we not hundreds of these soldiers idling about, day and night, eating most three times a day at the expense of the nation, when if our Ministers studied political economy they would have a care that every hour of the soldier's day was employed, if not for the State, then at least for himself. Even in the Government House, every office is crowded with clerks, who each month draw large salaries, and whose return does the country get for this outlay? We must emphatically say "none." Then, again, our exchequer seems to be in such a flourishing condition that it is thought we can afford the empty dignity of Ministers in foreign countries—Marmola's mission to Rio Janeiro, Sarmento's to the United States: how much will these cost the country? Verily, we believe that before they return we will have another extra duty clapped on to hide and woe to enable the Government to pay these ministers their salaries and travelling expenses.

Political economy is a dead letter in the River Plate, and in its stead we have political extravagance. We make these remarks, not with any intention to harass President Mitre's Government, which we consider the safest and best we have yet had, but to point out to us with the threat of abolishing the burning of the paper money, and undressed to hear that another emission of paper money is talked of in certain circles, we think it high time to tell President Mitre that if he wants the finances of the country to be in a prosperous condition, he must name as his Ministers men who have studied political economy.

We are not to be told that the National Government cannot be carried on at a cheap rate. A sound practical man as Minister of Finance would save the Government at least three millions a month. This is no vague assertion on our part, but a calculation based on the number of supernumerary employees in the Government service.

Respecting the trade of this place and the financial condition of the country, we profess to know more than all our colleagues put together; and we do insist that on the extravagant way in which we see the Hacienda department managed, had the Argentine Finance Minister the Bank of England at his back, he would be hard up before his first year of office expired.

Political economy is what we want, and not more bonds, more loans, or more taxes. The cow is nearly milked dry. Mr. Gonzalez will find this out to his cost, too late, if he does not beware.

THE NUMBER OF THE SCALLIES.

The Lobos tragedy.

We have received further particulars of the barbarous murders on San Acosta's estancia. It seems the scene of tragedy was a rancho held by one of Scally's 'mediocres,' named Reilly. The murder was on friendly terms with the brothers Scally, and often came to the rancho to dine and take coffee. Reilly having got married disliked the gaucho visitor, and Scally accordingly notified him to cease his relation with the house. The gaucho professed to acquiesce, but added "when I come next time, it will be on business." Soon afterwards, one evening, the gaucho came up to the house, and the dogs did not bark, he being known to them: the Scallys were playing cards with Reilly, when he opened the door, with a knife in his hand, and stood before them. Before the elder brother Scally could seize any weapon, or learn the cause of so alarming an intrusion, he was stabbed through the heart, and the younger brother running to his assistance received a horrible wound across his breast, which laid him apparently lifeless on the floor.

Reilly then rushed to the rescue, and being stabbed in the groin also fell beneath the assassin's knife. The wife, who had been in the room, fled in terror, and the murderer did not stay to rob the house, but mounting his horse, one of the best on San Acosta's estancia, rode up to the Alcaldé's house and told him "there must be something wrong with the Scallys for their sheep not having been closed in for the night." He then coolly went away, and the authorities found three Irishmen apparently dead in the rancho which was bathed with blood. Of course the assassin was not seized, nor is it likely we shall hear any more of him. The elder Scally was buried next day, the younger brother is, however, almost quite recovered.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Dr. Santa Maria's letter to the Editor of the 'Nacion Argentina,' respecting the Argentine Central Railway, is an interesting document. It will be found in another column. We cannot say that we fully coincide with Dr. Santa Maria respecting the difficulties which Mr. Wheelwright encountered, since he omits to mention the principal one; namely, that the people in England knew nothing whatever comparatively speaking of the Argentine Government, and that Mr. Wheelwright found it very difficult to persuade some of the leading capitalists of London that there existed in the River Plate any other Government save that of Buenos Ayres.

The Northern Railway is at present doing a splendid business, and we are happy to hear that the new traffic manager, Mr. Simpson, is a very efficient officer. His worthy friend, the Pae de Belgrano wishing to go to town the other day, sent a policeman before him to notify the manager of the important fact, and to request him to stop the train for a few minutes, but the manager very properly replied that he would not stop the train for the President.

Yesterday we were visited by a cot-top-plasterer from Corrientes, who expects to have about one thousand robes in the seed. He is at present picking it, and will have it ready for market in a few weeks.

The artillery, it seems, has at last been ordered off to Martin Garcia, where, we hear, it will remain until further orders.

Owing to the great fog yesterday, the Pava was delayed several hours. The steamer from Montevideo being also due, an immense crowd of people filled the Post-office, as if it were the mail from Europe. Such is the interest taken in news from the provinces and B. Oriental.

The only news from the interior is the discovery of some valuable silver mines in Catamarca. We hear nothing from San Juan. In Rosario there is an exciting interest as to the probable fate of the Cordoba Railway. Six criminals had escaped from the prison of Rosario, by making a hole in the wall. The British practices are becoming common in our prisons: one of the fellows, however, being ironed, was caught next day. Cattle stealing had broken out in the district of Pava, and there was no alarm to what we termed Cock-fighting and the Spanish drama formed the amusement at Rio Siso.

'Reforma' of Tuesday confirms our idea of the nature of the recent rebel movements in B. Oriental. On Sunday, last, Flores approached Florida, with two bodies of men, each about 600 strong. The vanguard of the Government army came in sight and prepared for the charge, but the rebels fled in disorder towards 'aspa,' and were routed on Monday night. The Flores' outposts were approaching Montevideo; there was no reliance, however, placed on the report. Dr. Gonzalez left on board Marques de Olinda, in mission to Paraguay. The General Artigas was sent to bring the garrison of Maldonado to Montevideo.

There are 1200 navies at work on the Great Southern railway; the whole country swarms with wick-labors, shoehs, &c, and it is amusing to see, here and there, a guitar belonging to some musical native, whereas to charn the bivariate, after hours. We are happy to see Mr. Ramball healthy and cheerful in the midst of his onerous labors.

The great English ball came off last night, over 300 guests being present. Great efforts were made to secure intimacy, and as usual many were disappointed. The President, who was honored the soiree with his presence. There was no opera last night.

The 'Bia' made her first trip, last evening, to Gualeguaychu: we wish her God-speed, and every success to the company, whose enterprise deserves imitation, in facilitating the traffic of our rivers. The Corrientes also left our port, for Montevideo.

We have received the 'Liberator' from Parana, 28th ult. Dr. Carrizosa calls the new Governor of Entre Rios "an aboriginal sprung from Urquiza's head." His paper has been confiscated. General Urdinarain made a brilliant speech at the opening of the Entre Rios Canal, in Concepcion. Who will be its captain?

The Provincial Chambers are again summoned, to-day, for inauguration, the chairman having sent urgent invitation to the members to give up their robes. It is likely the Governor, Ministers, white horses, and guard of honor, will make a second fiasco. Atoyer, when having a second time of the robes, usually give up their robes.

The 'Nacional' reports new outrages by police-officers: when will Sr. Cazen Governor Saravia take a patriotic example, by leaving the post for able hands?

Among the calamities of the day, is the disappearance of the 'able' article. Buynodth, from the premises contiguous to the 'Standard' office, we would gladly photograph our friends gratis, but that the alcide took away the keys. The hesitation of M. Gonzalez to burn the extra currency is beginning to weary its results.

The Liria, thank God, is safe; she was 80 days out and has on board a number of Irish immigrants, who will probably land to-day.

To-day is the 43rd anniversary of the death of Napoleon Bonaparte.

IMPORTANT FROM BR. ZIL.

The Correo Mercantil of last packet contains the following:

The navigation of the upper and lower Amazon draws much attention: besides the steamers Maraca and Pava, the wants of the colonies have required two more steam-boats of light draught (10 inches) which arrived for the purpose, on board the barque Rilea from England, and are now being put together. Peru would gain immensely by the free navigation of the river, and it is likely the Brazilian Government will act generously in the matter, by allowing the present monopoly.

In Belém the Government had ordered the arrest of Colonel Myreles, and the Rev. Dr. Mitoz, vice-general, which caused much excitement. In Maranhão, the Emperor's birthday was celebrated with a Te Deum sung by the bishop, and a banquet on board the corvette Bahia. A literary and historical society has been formed in that city, which will, moreover, provide a Free Public Library, and schools.

The Imperial Chambers are occupied with the following concessions:

1. Prolongation of San Paulo railway towards the river Paraná.
2. Branch lines from the above to Rio Janeiro, Pernambuco and Bahia.
3. Hydraulic Co. of Porto Alegre.
4. Bahia steam-boat subsidy.
5. Establishment of three military colonies on the upper Uruguay.

The new iron bridge is being put up to connect Pernambuco with San Antonio. Some cascades had set fire to the cotton-depot, but they have fallen into the hands of justice.

An Englishman named John Horley died in the hospital at Bahia. He had been condemned to 44 years penal servitude for aggravated assault, and his mother was on her way to Rio to beg the Emperor's pardon at the time of his death.

Dr. Enriquez Ferreira arrived from Southampton, as Consul-general for the king of Portugal, Rio. The French frigate Sybille arrived from Brazil.

IMPORTANT LETTER.

The Grand Central Railway. To the Editor of the N. Argentinian.

Trusting to your kindness and gentlemanly feeling, I write these few lines in the hopes that you will give their insertion in your newspaper; and so correct some errors which have no doubt, by mistake, crept into your statement of the Cordoba railway.

In your paper of last Saturday, your article on the Cordoba railway amongst other mistakes, represents the person who is the worthiest and best friend, to the prosperity and progress of these countries, namely, Mr. David Robertson, as strenuously opposing that object. Allow me to assure you that your informant have made a great mistake. In your following paper you rectify, in part, this mis-statement, saying that now being better informed, you can do proper justice to the patriotic and progressive character of Mr. Robertson, and am quite aware of the influence which Mr. Robertson has in England, he having always been one of the staunchest upholders of the credit of these countries in foreign parts.

Nevertheless, unfortunately, in your number of yesterday, you still represent him as opposing the Cordoba railway.

Being aware of all that has passed in London, not only from Mr. Robertson, but also from private and influential sources, it would be an act of injustice and breach of friendship, were I to allow these few remarks to pass uncorrected.

Mr. Robertson (notwithstanding what interested parties, always partial, may say) has never been hostile to, nor has he ever opposed, this undertaking. He is aware of the great importance such a project would be to the country, and he is anxious for its realization. But he wishes that it be established on a firm basis, and with the strictest rectitude and honesty, as the honor and credit of the country depend on it, and that the guarantee given by the National Government be more nominal than effective. His object, then, is highly laudable. He is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense. He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea he based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and precedence of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is trying to bring about a double

STEAMBOAT AGENCY

Wm. MATTIAND CO.
30 CANGALLO 30

FOR MONTEVIDEO
The National Steamer
SALTO,
Leaves every Monday at 5 p.m. and returns every Thursday.

FOR SANTIAGO AND INTERMEDIATE PORTS
The National Steamer
SALTO,
Leaves every Thursday at 10 a.m. and returns every Monday.

FOR ROSARIO
Calling at Zarate, Mercedes, San Pedro, Qilgodo, Las Hermanas, and San Nicolas
Yago by the Paraná, de los Patos, taking Cargo and Passengers, the National Steamer

PAVON,
Captain Piro,
Leaves every Thursday and Sunday at 12 Noon, and returns every Wednesday and Saturday.

FOR GUALEGUAY,
The National Steamer
LOI OCICITAS,
Leaves the "Don de las Nuevas" every Friday after the arrival of the Paven, and returns each Tuesday, by which the Passengers leave here every Thursday and return every Wednesday.

FOR THE PARANA,
Santa Fe, and intermediate Ports, the Mail Steamer
ESPIGADOR,
Leaves Rosario each Friday, two hours after arrival of the Paven, and returns every Tuesday in time to land over passengers' luggage to the Paven, which leaves for Buenos Ayres.

FOR CORRIENTES
Calling at Paraná, La Paz, Corrientes, de la Esquina, Osella, de la G. Bella Vista, and Esmeralda, the British Steamer
ESMERALDA,
Leaves Rosario in combination with the Paven, on Tuesday, May 10, and returns on Friday, May 13.

FAHRES:
To Zarate (cable) 8 paises
San Pedro do 8
Obligado do 10
San Nicolas do 12
Gual guay do 16
Rosario do 16
San Lorenzo do 18
Buenos Aires do 20
Santa Fe do 24
Paraná do 24
La Paz do 24
La Esquina do 24
Goya do 24
Bella Vista do 44
Empedrado do 62
Corrientes do 62
Nueva Palmira do 6
Fray Bentos 11
Concepcion 11
Payson 20
Deck Half-price

FRIGATES:
To Montevideo, per ton 4 dollars
Rosario 6
San Nicolas 6
Paraná 6
La Paz 10
Bella Vista 10
La Esquina 10
Goya 10
Corrientes 12
The Uruguay Ports 10

FOR CIVILIA,
Calling at San Nicolas, Rosario, Paraná, Jorjentes, Asuncion, and other Brazilian ports, the Brazilian Steamer
MATEOS DE OLINDA
Captain Thipolito de S. Bellocourt,
Leaves on the 14th May.

FAHRES:
San Nicolas 16 pafs.
Rosario 20
Paraná 20
Corrientes 60
Asuncion 60
Columba 142

FOR MONTEVIDEO,
The National Steamer
CORRIENTES,
Leaves on Saturday, 30th April, at 4 a.m.
No passengers allowed on any of the steamers without tickets.

MONEY ORDERS.
Drafts on IRELAND are granted by the undersigned, payable on demand at any of the 52 branches of the NATIONAL BANK.

Drafter also granted on
Messrs. Fraser, Grot & Co. Bankers
LONDON.
And on J. Barred & Co. Bankers
LIVERPOOL.

Timely application should be made at the office of Mr. Wilson Jacobs, Exchange Bankers, No 65 Calle San Martin (opposite the Bole).

THOMAS B. HALL,
DRAFTS AT NIGHT
ON THE UNION BANK OF IRELAND.

ISSUED BY THE
LONDON, BUENOS AYRES
RIVER PLATE BANK.
Calle de la Florida No. 90.

Corrales Portátiles de Hierro y Madera para Ovejas.
Corrales Portátiles de Hierro para Caballos.
Corrales Portátiles de Hierro para hacienda Vacuura
Bebedores de Hierro desde 600 vara.
Alfombras de Hierro de todo precio.
Cercos de Hierro para Rodos, Chacaras, Potreros, Corrales &c.

Puertas de Hierro.
Máquinas de cortar Alambre.
Máquinas de cortar Abrojos y Cardos.
Mangas de sacar Agua.

VAN DE VELDE HERMANOS,
Buen Orden 245, entre Chile y Méjico.

MEASAGERIAS Y CORREOS NACIONALES
INICIADORES.

127-CALLE 25 DE MAYO-127.

All the necessary arrangements having been made, the Empresa has opened an office in this city for the purpose of facilitating operations for the Commercial Community and the public in general.

In the office will be given tickets for passengers and parcels to any part of the Republic, and there, passengers for Chile can take through tickets for Valparaiso and Santiago.

The Disignees start from Rosario for Mendoza, San Juan and Chile every Tuesday.

From Rosario to Cordoba every Tuesday and Friday.

From Rosario for Santiago, Tucuman, Salta, Jujuy, and Bolivia every Friday.

For further particulars apply at the office of the Empresa.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN
CHINA, EARTHENWARE, AND GLASS STORE.
57-DEFENSA-57

Just opened to the Public. The largest Stock in town. Earthenware Goods of all descriptions. An immense variety of Glass Goods. English, French, and German China Articles.

Table Sets, Toilet Sets, Tea Sets, Coffee Sets.
Low Prices—Fixed Prices.
Terms—Cash.

WILLIAM FERGUSON AND CO.,
57-DEFENSA-57.
(Corner of Potosi.)

N.B.—The Stock will be shortly increased by arrivals from Europe.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUS & CO.

No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place their most confidence.

The Bank of Maus & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in this city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have no hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workmen, and servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Maus & Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Maus & Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Maus & Co. are also proud that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

p. p. Maus & Co.
WILLIAM MAUS & CO.

CONDITIONS.
1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.
2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent (6%) per annum which is liquidated every six months.
3rd. The depositor can at any time retiré the whole or part of the money deposited.
4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rates established by the Bank.
5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and subscribing to the local newspaper.

61 CORRIENTES 61

ENGLISH DRAPERY ESTABLISHMENT,
(ESTABLISHED 1861.)

J. E. HASTLER.

New Goods received Monthly.

61 CORRIENTES 61

FERRO-CARRIL DEL NORTE.

DESDE EL 15 DE ABRIL Y HASTA NUEVO AVISO, LOS TRENES SALDRAN COMO SIGUE:

DIAS DE TRABAJO

Ida.										Regreso.
Tren	15 de Mayo	Retiro	Bolivia	Guaya	de Indes	de Formosa	de la manana	de la tarde	de la noche	Tren	de Formosa	de Indes	Guaya	Bolivia	Retiro	15 de Mayo	de la manana	de la tarde	de la noche
1	10	10 10	10 20	10 30	11 30	11 30	12 30	13 30	14 30	2	12 15	12 30	12 45	13 00	13 15	14 15	15 15	16 15	17 15
2	11 30	11 45	12 00	12 15	13 15	13 15	14 15	15 15	16 15	3	13 15	13 30	13 45	14 00	14 15	15 15	16 15	17 15	18 15

DIAS FERIADOS

Ida.										Regreso.
Tren	15 de Mayo	Retiro	Bolivia	Guaya	de Indes	de Formosa	de la manana	de la tarde	de la noche	Tren	de Formosa	de Indes	Guaya	Bolivia	Retiro	15 de Mayo	de la manana	de la tarde	de la noche
1	10	10 10	10 20	10 30	11 30	11 30	12 30	13 30	14 30	2	12 15	12 30	12 45	13 00	13 15	14 15	15 15	16 15	17 15
2	11 30	11 45	12 00	12 15	13 15	13 15	14 15	15 15	16 15	3	13 15	13 30	13 45	14 00	14 15	15 15	16 15	17 15	18 15

Los Trenes pararán en Palermo y Rivadavia solamente en caso que hubicia pasajeros para esas Estaciones. Los pasajeros que desean ser desembarcados en ellas están en el deber de avisar al Guarda Tren al entrar en los coches. Sin este requisito los trenes no pararán.

LA ADMINISTRACION.

ENGLISH DRAPERY ESTABLISHMENT,
ALEX. FULTON & CO,
25 AND 27 DEFENSA 25 AND 27

LA PREVISORA ARGENTINA.

LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVING FUND ASSOCIATION OF BUENOS AYRES.

Capital Subscribed in first Three Months, 170,667 pafs. in 215 Shares.

DIRECTORS.
D. Miguel Azeuenga, President
D. Bernabé Ocampo, Vice-President
D. Antonio March del Pont
D. Jacobo Paravicini
D. Constant Santamaría

MANAGING COMMITTEE.
D. Estanislao Peña
D. J. A. Fernandez
D. L. B. Wilke
D. Mariano Fillinghurst
D. Ladislao F. Martinez

GERENTE.
D. JUAN CASADO,
Domicilio, Buenos Ayres.

AGENTS.
Sec. RIFSTRA y GARCIA,
Calle Bolívar, 19 y 23.

The PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive subscriptions as follows:
1st. On one's own life, in shares of $5 silver and upwards. These subscriptions liquidated at any time at the subscriber's time and option.
2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the insured. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and the proportional interest for lost by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however, is returned.

3rd. With loss of capital, by death of the insured. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportionate part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.
4th. These subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly.

The capital of the Company shall be invested only in landed property (finca), and with the greatest security.
The Board of Liquidation, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Company.

Subscriptions in Paper Money.
The Directors, wishing to enlarge the operations of the Society, have acceded to the request of many people in this city, and determined to issue shares payable in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, under the following conditions:
Article 66.—From the 1st of April, 1884, shares shall be issued to such persons as may wish to pay in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, and in accordance to the Article 17 chapter 5 of the Statutes of the Society, the lowest sum receivable being $200 monthly payable in one sum, or in instalments, subject to the following rules:
1st.—For Paper Money Subscribers sections will be opened and kept separate from Silver Money Subscribers.
2nd.—The liquidation of the sums belonging to the sections of Paper Money $40 subscribers will be administered according to Article 31 of the Statutes, and for account of these particular sections.
By these means the Directors hope to gain its object which is to enable the poorer classes to enjoy all the advantages of the Society.
For further particulars, apply at the Co.'s Office, No. 87 Calle S. Martin (altos), where prospectuses and circulars may be had.

Blankets, Flannels, Wincies,
CLAN SHAWLS, HOSIERY, &c.
PATRICK CALBRAITH,
Begs to inform his numerous Customers that he has just received a large assortment of 9-4, 10-4, and 12-4 Blankets, 4-4, 6-4, and 8-4 Flannels; Aberdeen and Knickerbocker Wincies, Long and Square Clan Wool Shawls, Molekin and Corduroy, Youths' and Gents' Tweed Suits, Gents' Reversible Jackets, L. W. Hosiery and Under-clothing, Ties, Scarfs, &c.,
AT
The English Drapery Establishment of Buenos Ayres,
49 & 51-CALLE DEFENSA-49 & 51.

Sewing Machines.
A large and varied assortment on hand. Warranted to work well. They are all of the latest and most improved inventions, and of different prices.
JOHN SHAW,
110 204 Calle Venezuela.

Auction Sale
By
MARIANO BILLINGHURST,
At his House, No. 70, Calle Potosi,
Of 107 rams and 7 ewes, of the Negrette breed, lately received, consigned directly from Germany, per Catharina Hermann, out of the Farm of Graciosa and Weckelshagen, in the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg.
On the 10th May next, at 11 o'clock, a.m., the sale of their rams will continue, 31 only having been sold on the 22d April, on account of the row about the elections.
The animals can be seen at Potosi, No. 70, every day from 10 in the morning until 6 in the afternoon.
13p. A26

Hotel Belgrano.
The undersigned returns thanks to his friends and the public for the kind protection they have favored him with, and begs to advise them that he has removed to the next square, to the quinta known as that of Messrs. Freyer. The beautiful gardens and superior accommodation lead him to hope that the public will continue to favor him with their support.
Sunday May-day, the great English festival, there will be MOCK-TURTLE SOUP.
James Deacon,
20 p. A. 27.

Shoep for Sale
From two to three thousand fine sheep to be sold. Inquire at 184, Calle Parque; or at Mr. Gerald Dillon's, of Partido, Moron, three leagues from Moron.
K. A32

MURDER, MURDER...
20,000 Dollars Reward.
The above sum will be paid either for the arrest of the murderer of William Sannery, late of the Partido of Navarro, or for information which may lead thereto. Said reward will be paid by me when the assassin shall be convicted and condemned to death.
Navarro, March 29, 1884.
LAURENCE CASEY,
Estancia Durazno.

"The Standard," Printed and Published every morning at the Standard Printing Office, No. 10, Calle Uruguay, by the Proprietors and Editors, G. & H. T. Bicknell.