POLITICAL ECONOMY.
We hold that there is nothing more requisite in the River Plate, yet nothing less studied than political economy.

THE NUMBER OF THE SCALLES.
The Lobos tragedy.
We have received further particulars of the barbarous murders on Sor Acosta's estancia.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
There is something so truly touching in the poverty of an administration obliged to succumb to such terms, that we feel for President Mitre and his Government.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
But if we look into the books of the Government, if we inspect the accounts of the executive, do we not discover the real cause of all this mendacity?

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
We fear indeed that the National Government cannot clear itself from the charge of being most scandalously extravagant.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
The Custom-house of Buenos Ayres is, as we are informed, so shockingly mismanaged that the collection of the duties costs the Government positively 33 per cent of its returns.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
Again, the Argentine army, small though it is, costs the Government not only more than its weight, but more than the Government can afford to pay.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
We have at present hundreds of men passing days and months in idleness in garrison at Martin Garcia, when by right they should be employed in sowing rice in the islands in front.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
Even in the Government House, every office is crowded with clerks, who each month draw large salaries, and whose return does the country get for this outlay?

which we consider the safest and best we have yet had, but modelled on as we are with the threat of abolishing the baring of the paper money, and undetermined to hear that another emission of paper money is talked of in certain circles, we think it high time to tell President Mitre that if he wants the finance of the country to be in a prosperous condition, he must name as his Ministers men who have studied political economy.

We are not to be told that the National Government cannot be carried on at a cheaper rate. A sound practical man as Minister of Finance would save the Government at least three millions a month. This is no vague assertion on our part, but a calculation based on the number of supernumerary employees in the Government service.

Respecting the trade of this place and the financial condition of the country, we profess to know more than all our colleagues put together; and we do insist that from the extravagant way in which we see the Hacienda department managed, had the Argentine Finance Minister the Bank of England at his back, he would be hard up before his first year of office expired.

Political economy is what we want, and not more words, more loans, or more taxes. The cow is nearly milked dry. M. Gonzalez will find this out to his cost, too late, if he does not beware.

THE BIRD OF THE YEAR.
We have received further particulars of the barbarous murders on Sor Acosta's estancia. It seems the scene of tragedy was a rancho held by one of Scally's 'mediocres,' named Reilly.

The murderer was on friendly terms with the brothers Scally, and often came to the rancho to dine and take coffee. Reilly having got married disliked the gaucho vizir, and Scally accordingly notified him to cease his relation with the house.

The gaucho professed to acquiesce, but added 'when I come next time, it will be on business.' Soon afterwards, one evening, the gaucho came up to the house, and the dogs did not bark, he being known to them: the Scallys were playing cards with Reilly, when he opened the door, with a knife in his hand, and stood before them.

Before the elder brother Scally could seize any weapon, or learn the cause of so alarming an intrusion, he was stabbed through the heart, and the younger brother running to his assistance received a horrible wound across his breast, which laid him apparently lifeless on the floor.

Reilly then rushed to the rescue, and being stabbed in the groin also fell beneath the assassin's knife. The wife luckily escaped, and the murderer did not stay to rob the house, but mounting his horse, one of the best on Sor Acosta's estancia, rode up to the Alcalde's house, and told him 'there must be something wrong with the Scallys, for their sheep not having been closed in for the night.' He then coolly went away, and the authorities found three Irishmen apparently dead in the rancho which was bathed with blood. Of course the assassin was not struck, nor is it likely he shall hear any more of him. The elder Scally was buried the next day, the younger brother is not expected to recover. Reilly is, however, almost quiet reposed.

Yesterday we were visited by a cotton-planter from Corrientes, who expects to have about one thousand robes in the seed. He is at present picking it, and will have it ready for market in a few weeks.

The artillery, it seems, has at last been ordered off to Martin Garcia, where, we hear, it will remain until further orders.

Owing to the great fog yesterday, the Pavon was delayed several hours. The steamer from Montevideo being also due, an immense crowd of people filled the Post-office, as if it were the mail from Europe. Such is the interest taken in news from the provinces and B. Oriental.

The only news from the interior is the discovery of some valuable silver mines in Catamarca. We hear nothing from San Juan. In Rosario there is a great alarm, as to the probability of the Cordoba Railway. Six criminals had escaped from the prison of Rosario, by making a hole in the wall. The British practices are becoming common in our prisons: one of the fellows, however, being ironed, was caught next day. Cattle stealing had broken out in the district of Pavon, and there was much alarm at the epidemic. Cock-fighting and the Spanish drama formed the amusement at Ulsario.

The 'Reforma' of Tuesday confirms our idea of the nature of the recent rebel movements in B. Oriental. On Sunday, last, Flores approached Florida with two bodies of men, each about 600 in strength. The vanguard of the Government army came in sight and prepared for the charge, but the rebels fled in disorder towards 'Asupa,' as it was named on Monday night, and Flores' outposts were approaching Montevideo; there was no reliance, however, placed on the report. Dr. Siganza went on board Marques de Olinda, in mission to Paraguay. General Artigas was sent to bring the garrison of Maldonado to Montevideo.

There are 1200 navies at work on the Great Southern railway; the whole country swarms with wheelbarrows, shovels, &c., and it is amusing to see, here and there, a guitar belonging to some musical rascal, whereas to charm the bivouac of the labourer. We are happy to see Mr. Rumball healthy and cheerful in the midst of his onerous labours.

The great English ball came off last night, over 300 guests being present. Great efforts were made to secure intimacy, and as usual many were disappointed. The President, however, honored the soiree with his presence. There was no opera last night. The 'Bra' made her first trip, last evening, to Gualeguaychu: we wish her good success, and every success to the company, whose enterprise deserves imitation, in facilitating the traffic of our rivers. The Corrientes also left our port, for Montevideo.

We have received the 'Litoral' from Parana, 28th ult. Dr. Carrizosa calls the new Governor of Entre Rios 'an abortion sprung from Urquiza's head.' His paper has been very general. General Urdinarain made a brilliant speech at the opening of the Entre Rios Bank, in Concepcion. Who will write us anything?

The Provincial Chambers are again summoned, to-day, for inauguration. The chairman having sent urgent invitations to the 'reform' will attend for the night. It is likely the Governor, Ministers, white horses, and guard of honor, will make a second fiasco. Actors, when hired a second time, do not, usually, give up their roles.

The 'National' reports new outrages by police-officers: when will Sr. Cazen by Governor Saavedra a patriotic example, by invading his post for abolitionists? Among the calamities of the day, is the disappearance of the 'Abel' artist, Buzonelli, from the premises contiguous to the 'Standard' office. We would gladly photograph our friends gratis, but that the alcaldé took away his keys. The hesitation of M. Gonzalez to burn the extra currency is beginning to weary its results. The Liria, thank God, is safe; she was 80 days out and has on board a number of Irish immigrants, who will probably land to-day.

To-day is the 43rd anniversary of the death of Napoleon Bonaparte.

IMPORTANT FROM BR. ZEL.
The Correo Mercantil of last packet contains the following:
The navigation of the upper and lower Amazon draws much attention: besides the steamers Maraca and Pampas, the wants of the colonies require two more steam-boats of light draught (10 inches) which arrived for the purpose, on board the barque Eliza on Monday night, and are being put together. Peru would gain immensely by the free navigation of the river, and it is likely the Brazilian Government will act generously in the matter, by allowing the present monopoly to expire.

In Belm the Government had ordered the arrest of Colonel Myreles, and the Rev. Dr. Motos, vicar-general, who caused much excitement. In Maranhao, the Emperor's birthday was celebrated with a Te Deum sung by the bishop, and a banquet on board the convetta Bahiana. A literary and historical society has been formed in that city, which will, moreover, provide a Free Public Library, and schools.

The Imperial Chambers are occupied with the following concessions:
1. Prolongation of San Paulo railway towards the river Parana.
2. Branch lines from the above to Rio Janeiro, Pernambuco and Bahia.
3. Hydraulic Co. of Porto Alegre.
4. Bahia a free port solely.

The new iron bridge is being put up to connect Pernambuco with San Antonio. Some cannons had set fire to the cotton-depot, but they have fallen into the hands of justice. An Englishman named John Horley died in the hospital at Bahia. He had been condemned to 4 years penal servitude for aggravated assault, and his mother was on her way to Rio to beg the Emperor's pardon at the time of his death.

Dr. Enriquez Ferreira arrived from Southampton, as Counsel-general for the King of Portugal, Rio. The French frigate Sybilie arrived from Brest.

IMPORTANT LETTER.
The Grand Central Railway.
To the Editor of the N. Argentine.
Trusting to your kindness and gentlemanly feeling, I write these few lines in the hopes that you will give their insertion in your newspaper; and so correct some errors which have no doubt, by mistake, crept into your statement of the Cordoba railway.

In your paper of last Saturday, your article on the Cordoba railway amongst other mistakes, represents the person who is the worthiest and best friend, to the prosperity and progress of these countries, namely, Mr. David Robertson, as strenuously opposing that object. Allow me to assure you that your informant has made a great mistake.

In your following paper you rectify, in part, this mis-statement, saying that now being better informed, you can do proper justice to the patriotic and progressive character of Sr. Niestra, and am quite aware of the influence which Mr. Robertson has in England, he having always been one of the staunchest upholders of the credit of these countries in foreign parts.

Nevertheless, unfortunately, in your number of yesterday, you still represent him as opposing the Cordoba railway. Being aware of all that has passed in London, not only from Mr. Robertson, but also from private and influential sources, it would be an act of injustice and breach of friendship, were I to allow these few remarks to pass unmentioned.

Sr. Robertson (notwithstanding what interested parties, always partial, may say) has never been hostile to, nor has he ever opposed, this undertaking. He is aware of the great importance such a project would be to the country, and he is anxious for its realisation. But he wishes that it be established on a firm basis, and with the strictest rectitude and honesty, as the honor and interest of the present Government, and that the guarantee given by the National Government be more nominal than effective. His object, then, is highly laudable. He is trying to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense.

He considers the saving of the treasury from the forced payment of the guarantee, which would be thus 'effective,' instead of only being 'nominal,' as a most essential point. Although this idea is based on the private opinions which he holds on the subject of the credit and present condition of the country, time, and more especially the opinions of his best friends and correspondents, who think differently, will end by confuting it. Whilst striving for the good of the shareholders, and also of the country, he has brought into play his capital, his credit, and his influence; and he is cited as a pattern of rectitude and honesty. Far from opposing the scheme, he has always been one of its most ardent supporters. At the request of Mr. Wheelwright, he accepted the chairmanship, and he is endeavoring to bring about a double benefit. He wishes that all the advantages may belong to the undertaking itself, and that the National Government incur no expense.

the part of Mr. Wheelwright—at least such is the opinion of many in London, and a false step, to give it no other name, which may yet be an apple of discord (for there is no doubt but that the list will be filled up), and which in the meantime dulls the brilliancy which should have surrounded this scheme from the beginning, and which unfortunately suggests 'heavily' for the Establishment of three military colonies on the upper Uruguay.

chosen by the Committee to go down to Montevideo by the steamer on Thursday next. The members of the Club and other lovers of the sport are invited to accompany the men to Montevideo. J. BOSTON, Sec. Challenge of B. A. Cricketer to Cricketers at Montevideo. I. Ayres, May 2, 1884.

To Edward Cooper, Esq., Secretary of M. V. Cricket Club. Dear Sir, The B. A. Cricketer Club have for a long time been desirous of testing their strength with the cricketers of Montevideo, and they now take advantage of the presence of a large naval squadron there to offer a challenge to play the Montevideo Club, assisted by the officers and men of the Royal Navy, and should the challenge not be accepted, an equal number, who are bold enough to say that they will not refuse to play 11 B. Ayres against 13 Montevideans.

I would feel obliged by your communicating the offer to the club through the medium of her Majesty's squadron, and by your intimating to them that the B. A. team will, in all probability, make their appearance in Montevideo on Friday morning next to play on that and the following day; and it would be well for you to make your arrangements accordingly, so as you may be able to carry out our intentions on the receipt of your answer. Believe me, dear Sir, Yours, &c., F. PARKIN.

From the following list eleven will be selected:— H. Simpson, E. Simpson, J. C. Simpson, J. Darbyshire, Isaac, S. Getting, Eggleston, Elliott, Isaac, Jacobs, Drummond, J. Batton, F. Barish, Gripp.

THE FARM. (APRIL.)
The April of 1884 has passed into the records of history, leaving the camp, at least those of some of the northern partidos much greener than the preceding month. During the month the weather was as favourable for the growth of grass as could be expected, notwithstanding the losses in cattle and sheep have been unusually heavy during the month; this is attributed to the thistle, which is very abundant just now. The average yield of a district would be difficult, if not impossible, for me to state with accuracy, that they are severe may be inferred from the fact that some parties have lost 23 per cent of their cattle, and 15 per cent of their entire stock of sheep during this month; these are not exceptional cases, quite the reverse, as have escaped paying a contribution more or less heavy.

Lambing during April has been so backward that many flocks have not one lamb; sheep that were in poor condition in November cannot be expected to have many April lambs. There are yet many farmers and their backs away from their homes, although some of them have this time two feet high growing on their own camp they cannot venture to put sheep on such pasture; the thistle is the terror of the farmer at certain seasons.

Fat wethers are saleable and much looked after, but very scarce; the only one I know of has been affected at 50. The Indian corn in the partido in which I write (Pilar) is not all gathered in yet, the crop is by no means so scanty as reported by some speculators; although the partido is by no means an agricultural one, corn is largely planted; a great number of native estancieros plant it on their estancias, and they all admit that it remunerates them in the worst of years; a little protection on the part of local authorities, such as preventing trespass, &c., would encourage and promote tillage; one estancia has gathered something over two hundred fanegas—had the year been favorable he would have had, according to his calculation, over one thousand fanegas; the highest price obtained as yet is 110 dol., delivered at the purchaser's house which in some instances was six leagues from where the crops grow. Hay has been sold at 1100 dol., the ton to be taken off the field, that is from the stack at purchasers expense.

Cattle are offered for sale at 8 dol. the cut, but no sale has taken place, to my knowledge, during the month; the only sale of sheep that I am aware of, only by a Frenchman, at 45 dol., with two years' pluck without interest; this bargain reduces the price to about 34 dol.; sheep are very unsaleable just now; drovings, thistles, increasing expenses of farming, and the even want of security for either life or property has cooled down the rage for buying sheep; caution is now the motto.

Towards maintaining an association of this kind, but we must bear in mind that the small streams are the beginning of large rivers, and who knows what this Society may not do towards English literature in these countries.

There are already quite sufficient gentlemen who write for the River Plate Magazine, and who undoubtedly will be willing to form part of this Society, to proceed immediately to its formation, in fact we know a dozen already who are anxious that an association of this kind should be formed.

As a basis of its success, the members who furnish articles for the review mentioned periodical should read them in the meetings, which would be held semi-monthly or weekly, as would be found suitable, and they would give rise to discussion or observations, which would stimulate the members to present papers worthy of themselves and of the Society, which would form a part of the magazine which will be its organ.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUS & CO.

BUENOS-AYRES.
The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place their most confidence.
The Bank of Maus & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.
The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.
These advantages have no hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workmen, and servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.
The Bank of Maus & Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.
The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.
The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.
The Bank of Maus & Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.
The Bank of Maus & Co. are also proud that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.
p. p. Maus & Co.
