Important to Sheep Furmers.

Gentlemen:—

Gentlemen:—

If you think my remarks worth the ink, please to insert them in your paper. The Exmoor are hardy sheep, and endure rainy weather. The cross-bred sheep, Merino and Ryeland, (Hereford) produce a very valuable fleece, indeed, this wool advanced from 2s to 3s per lb., and the fleece increased in weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece be unclipped for two years it will weight from 2 to 3-lb, moreover, if the fleece indicates the fleece indeed, in the fleece indicates the fleece, indeed, indicates the fleece indicates the fleece, indeed country I cannot speak, but in other regions it is necessary to keep the sheep away from the grass till the dew is off, and from water after hail storms.

Thymo, sheep's parely, endise, and all saling of bitter plants, such as saltwort, glass wort, wormwood, etc., are good for sheep, but nothing adds so much to the youle as rape seed, in the form of rape cake, and secing that a bushel of seed will such ten access and that plants of the same tribe are now-ious weeds in the ploughed ground hero, I do not see why we should not not sow it, for it would smother the thistles-and the clover would be all the better for the shale. And, speaking of shude, why do we not sow broom in the locamp? It would do for firewood, shell ter the unfortunate muttons from wind and suu, and protect the horbage in dry seasons; furthermore, the more the sheep bit it, the more branches it would not sheep bit it, the more branches it would not thank me for the information, for my mother taught me so; and it you want good wool your sheep should be kext in moderately good condition the year round and never be allowed to get very fat.

In Africa and Asia they always have two or three goats to lead the sheep over water, and especially to prevent them from running before the wind, without knowing whither. In Germany thousands of acree of light dry soil, that lay too far from the rivers to be valuable as woodlands, have been made into winter pastures for sheep by sowing them with the Yellow Lupin. Of course nothing will eat it when green, but when it is withered the wooly provide of of there in winter, and even if they tread it down in summer, it is no matter; we have a did down in summer, it is no matter; we have a summer and there searched, and it down in summer, it is no matter; we have a summer and there searched, and is only what the second in the face of the provide food for there in winter, and even if they tread it down in summer, it is no matter; when we have a summer and there searched, and it has been been been also as a summer and the

Now, as to the matter of sheltering the sheep from wind and sun, we have plenty of wet lands near the city, which, by cutting a few open drains would be able to produce abundance of willows by planting in rows four feet apart, and the sets at twenty inches, in three years from the documents of the treaty have already been signed by the Government and forwarded to Floks. As to forage, I think we are steering in a wrong direction, for though alfalfa is very good green, it makes very bad hay, whereas sain foin will endure the divertiese having lost a Government bite of sheep, produces hay which even grass fed horses will eat, grows on a drier soil than lucerne, and will last night have added, "and pethags more who have enclosed lands can of course that its reported going ahead famously, do many things which are otherwise impredicable. It is time for the Government to country and add to the comfort and refrieve the evil before its impatiality well-being of all, for poor risen have be discredited in the Provinces where not the means to do these things till this mismanagement has already protected accordingly bad impression they have been proved, and rich men duced an exceedingly bad impression will not devote the time increasing for that may lead to more disastrous complishing such matters; noverthe less, something might be done, and, will not devote the time necessary for accomplishing such matters; neverthe less, something might be done, and, though a man may say that he is a tenant without a lease or other security, still I nover heard of a tenant-at-will being discharged bacause he was improving the estate, or that a Spaniard did not know how to be a gentleman.

As to planting and other matters, I may have more to say on a future occasion, but space and opportunity are precious things.

We give Sr. Varela credit for more sense : it is most natural that every honest Spaniard should feel strongly about the massacre of his countrymen at Talambo, and M. The talk on the Bolsa to-day was exclusively about the Lanus scheme for redeeming the paper money. Merchants seem to regard it with great favour, and think it preferable to Sor. Riestra's. Brokers, however, laugh in their sleeve at the project, and say that the paper dollar heats them all—that nothing can be done with it, and therefore the best thing to do is to leave it alone. Meanwhile there cannot be the slightest doubt that paper money will keep depreciating unless the legisflature interferes.

There are at this time many thousands of Confederate prisoners of war conned in the various forts and camps of the Northern States. A large proportion of them are wounded or sick, and all are in a state of destitution, the accounts of which, as given in private letters and in the newspapers, present a picture of human suffering, which has scarcely a parallel in modern times. The merest necessaries of life are wanting, and frequently the wounded prisoner has no raiment says that which is stark and stiffened with his clotted blood. Horrible 5 war is in all its features, assuredly it has no greater horrors than the long agony of the poor captive who, when the feverish excitement of the centest is over, is left to the bitter charity of strangers and fees, without one friendly hand to coothe the pains of body or friendly voice to whisper hope and comfort to his despairing mind. These men, cut off from the assistance of their kindred or the protection of their Government, have peculiar claims on the patriotism of their countrymen in Europe, and upon christian benevolence everywhere. They did bt recklessly or from choice embrace the profession of arms, but in exchanging bt recklessly or from choice embrace the profession of arms, but in exchanging of comforts, and often the luxuries, of home for the toils and hardships of a soldier's life, they obeyed a stern sense of duty and the call of their country in its extremest need. An unusual proportion, also, of those that fill the ranks of the Confederate armies belong to the higher walks of life, upon whom privations, such as are endured by prisoners in the hands of the North, fall with creased severity.

The Southern Prisoners' Relief Fund is intended to mitigate some of these affectings which cannot altogether be relieved. Within little more than a welvemonth, nearly £3,000 have been collected and expended in relief. The canagers of the Fund are assisted in their efforts by self-devoted ladies in the sanagers of the Fund are assisted in their chorts by self-devoted ladies in the rincipal Northern cities, who visit the sufferers and give chem such aid as the leans at their disposal render possible.
