Montevideoan Independence.

To-morrow will be the anniversary of independence of the Oriental Republic. We wish we could state the circumstances under more favorable conditions.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Dr. Carreras leaves this morning in the Paraguayan steamer as Oriental Minister to Assunon. Mr. Hopkins, who was so well known in this city, and whom President Mitre named as Argentine Consul-General to Washington, has we are sorry to say not been received in his diplomatic character by President Lincoln.

The steamer Corrientes arrived from Montevideo yesterday morning all covered with flags. She brought the glorious news that peace was at last made. We expected that President Mitre would have ordered one hundred guns to be fired in honor of the peace.

The German concert will take place on Tuesday evening at the German church. Tickets are on sale at Messrs Mackern's book store.

The great musical invoice which Messrs. Mackern has received from England is the talk in English circles, over three thousand English, Irish, and Scotch songs and airs.

Senora Calzadilla and Peraldo are still at loggerheads about the death of Flow, the former asserting that he is dead and buried, the latter that he is alive and kicking.

The New York 'World' of the 10th of May contains rather a gloomy communication from Buenos Ayres, one would suppose from the great importance which is attached to Indian invasions and frontier soldiers that the correspondence in question emanated from some Indian commissioner.

thirds of the passengers brought out within the last twelve months by the Liverpool steamers have had their passages paid by their wealthy and independent friends in this country.

The rumours through town yesterday were to the effect that General Moreno had himself made peace with Flores, and many people begin to think that there is much truth in the report of one thing there can be very little doubt and that is, there is a disposition on the part of both sides to make peace.

The little town of Gualeguaychu is making rapid progress, and the cotton house figures prove that it is going ahead; the exports, for this month, of pine, were nearly double the amount of imports.

We are of a lamentable accident which occurred on Monday the other day at the house of Mr. J. J. Bladon. A little boy, eight years old, fell into the 'aljibe,' and notwithstanding the instant efforts to extricate him, was drowned.

Building high houses in Buenos Ayres is becoming so monstrously expensive that we are glad to see Mr. Serna, a member of the Corporation, has taken the matter up. He proposes that a law shall be introduced prohibiting all parties from building their houses higher than the width of the street in which such houses are to be built.

Our colleagues, the 'Tribuna,' very properly call attention to the outrageous valuation which Government is putting on house property in this city, and which is raising the rent on the valuations appear to be in accordance with the most despotic power. They walk into a house, look at the rooms, which, if well papered and furnished, justifies them, in their estimation, in doubling or trebling the previous valuation of the premises.

Central Argentine Railway. We have enrolled in this office two more subscribers for stock, one for five shares, the other for ten. An Irish estanciaero has also promised to take ten. The latest reports from Rosario mentioned that some Chilianes were investing; one, we believe, took 40 shares. But all other subscriptions in these provinces fade into insignificance beside the princely sum of £20,000 sterling given by General Urquiza.

getting up a grand emigration scheme in London: but as yet we have no authority either to confirm or contradict such report. The present is, indeed, a most favourable time to promote Irish emigration, when the vessels cannot book the passengers fast enough at Cork.

We are glad to see him again among us and in the possession of excellent health; he is accompanied only by Mrs. Wheelwright, the other members of his family having remained in England. Our statement of his landing on Thursday was premature, the weather preventing him until next day, when the state 'falma' was sent to convey him ashore.

I have the honor to hand you here with a cheque for the amount of the first call on One Thousand shares, for which I have subscribed to the great work of the Central Argentine Railway.

ANGORA GOATS' WOOL. The following interesting letter from a gentleman in Paris to a friend in Montevideo will be read with pleasure by those who foster the introduction of new industries.

The town of Jusli-cazari (Syria) produces the finest kind of goats, and their wool is most esteemed for superior quality. The Angora goat is found in a radius of 20 or 30 leagues of said town. Rivier and Trongra, two villages about 30 leagues from Angora, produce large numbers.

Horrible Occurrence at Lujan. To the Editors of 'The Standard.' Lujan, Chozas, July 14, 1864. Gentlemen, As you have no doubt ere this received many different versions of the sad tragedy which has occurred within the past few days in this neighbourhood, and since many of them are likely to be erroneous, I beg to lay before you a full, true and correct statement of the circumstances connected with the affair.

On last Sunday evening the victim and his wife were sitting on the veranda of the Villa Lujan shortly before sunset. On arriving within about a league of my house, my companion got off his horse for the purpose of 'smoking,' leaving me to jog along by myself.

climate and soil of Montevideo than to ours (France), and it is ready to forward by every means the introduction of these animals on a large scale into the River Plate territories.

PLEASE REMIND MR. LOCOCK THAT I expect the few pounds of wool which he has promised me for experiments in weaving and spinning, I should be glad that he would enter the Acclimatization Society, in which case ask him to write me a few lines on the matter.

NORTHWARD HO! This should be the watchword of farmers, not yet having exhausted their own. They who wish to become estanciaeros should arouse and with a firm determination steer north, now or never, no matter how small his capital, need not without a small estancia in Santa Fe or Cordova.

It is a well known fact that money has a peculiar way of making men wise, most men, however, do not seem to understand for those not pestered with the perpetual clink of a certain metal, and I was very glad to see that the best way to buy land in Santa Fe was to club in parties of eight or ten, each man purchasing according to his means.

ARGENTINE MINES. Gentlemen; As I perceive you take an interest in the development of the Argentine mineral wealth, I trust you will excuse my imparting a little and find room for the following mining items, taken from that great repository of news, 'An American Paper.'

FROM THE EASTERN MINES. From the Eastern papers, and from sundry letters of inquiry, we learn that numerous gold mining companies are flooding the country with their prospectuses, wherein glowing descriptions of mineral fields richly are offered for the smallest amount of money ever.

usual for him to remain at one of my 'puetos,' on his return from the Villa. I concluded, since he had not returned to my house, he had made the afore said 'pueto' his home for the night.

much more poetical than truthful—beautiful to the imagination, very dangerous to the pocket. The poet who buys on such evidence deserts to lose their money. That we do need capital to develop our mines is a well established belief.
