EDITOR'S TABLE

The most important news from Uruguay is the capture of Fray Benito. The government troops took possession of the town last week...

On the 27th inst. Madame Bribo's benefit will take place. The 'Tribuna' made a horrible blunder in calling the attention of Britishers to the fact by stating that she will sing the beautiful air, 'The Last of Summer'...

We recommend to the attention of our readers an interesting article from President Mitre's pen, in the 'Revista' of this month, entitled, 'El Crusero de la Argentina'...

A small cotton plantation at the Diamante, Entre Rios, belonging to Don Domingo Madole, is offered for sale on halves...

The contractors of the Northern Railway are selling off, on the 25th inst., by auction, all the surplus material in their yard at the Retiro...

Our esteemed friend Dr. Augustino Matienzo has been received by the Argentine Government as Bolivian Charge d'Affaires.

The Argentine Racing Society seem determined that the public shall have due notice of their next meeting, for although it will not take place till the middle of October, they have already commenced advertising.

The whole of the Caracas district is fast passing into the hands of foreigners. Two of our friends left the city last Saturday with the intention of buying two or three leagues up there...

The greatest place for growing potatoes in the Argentine Republic is the Baradero. Over 2,500 arrobas arrived from that place last week, and yet, notwithstanding this, the price of potatoes in the market is two dollars a pound, which is scandalously exorbitant.

Our readers can form some idea of the state of our prisons by looking at the Criminal Calendar of the present week. Juan Brunet, murderer, Jose Brantone, do., Justo Gigena, do., Victoriano Juarez, cattle stealing, Liberato Montes, wounding with intent to kill...

Some of our mariners friends to climb up the country, going to destruction to ascend, then a Yankee and a Scotchman followed suit, and as a matter of course they gained the garments and cash.

The latest news from Corrientes is that the country is going to destruction for the want of lawyers. The 'Tribuna' correspondent makes a most effective appeal to the bar of Buenos Ayres...

Our readers will please take notice that there is no poet's corner in the 'Standard'. Since Laurinda Lapente has commenced versifying in the 'Tribuna', our poetic communications have increased alarmingly.

We hear that there is a project before the Municipality for establishing a large swimming bath to be supplied with the river water. As it will be a great accommodation to the public, we have no doubt that the Municipality will throw it out.

The steam navigation project has met with an unexpected opposition in Congress. Sr. Frías, who opposed the measure, asserted that all the statements about the great trade of Brazil in the Upper Paraguay, the splendid opportunities offered by the steamship company for developing the untold wealth, was nothing more or less than 'blarney'...

A great agitation is going on in National bonds. Several Argentine capitalists have clubbed together, and formed a sort of company for the purchase of these securities, which are selling, we regret to say, at 60 per cent. below par.

The contractors of the Northern Railway are selling off, on the 25th inst., by auction, all the surplus material in their yard at the Retiro. This seems to look bad for our friends in Zarate, who are anxiously expecting the commencement of the extension works.

The Argentine Racing Society seem determined that the public shall have due notice of their next meeting, for although it will not take place till the middle of October, they have already commenced advertising.

The value which the new silver plates represented was one Bolivian real and half a bolivian real on bits of blue and red paper. As the issuers of these notes did not attempt to falsify the Corrientes bank notes, they could not be charged with forgery.

THE SALTO MURDERS

The horrible assassination of Evaristo and the boy took place near Mr. James Bell's, not Mr. Hastings, estancia. A letter dated on the 14th inst., from Sr. Machado, gives an account of his tedious journey, partly on foot, to Salto, in quest of his sheep; also some particulars about the tragedy.

As soon as the authorities heard of the murders, a man was sent to take charge of the sheep, and suspicion fell on two soldiers, who were accordingly arrested. It was thought the horrible deed was committed by several, as Evaristo was a very muscular man and would not easily fall a victim unless taken asleep.

ARGENTINE INTERVENTION

In Sunday's 'Nacion Argentina' a few lines appeared on this subject, by which we learn that the Argentine Government is sending over troops to the neighbouring Republic for nothing more nor less than to exact satisfaction from the Oriental Government for the insults to the Argentine flag.

If an Argentine army be ordered to invade the Republic we should like to know, on the part of the public, its intended line of operations. If it is to open hostilities against the Government, the best way would be to put it under the orders of General Flores, and propose the retention of the territory we may see Brazil take part with the Government, and then the Blanco Colorado complications resolve themselves into a simple matter of accord with Flores, and Sr. Saravia alleges that the Imperial troops merely occupy the country to protect the lives and properties of Brazilians.

THE PSYCHE FLORIDA

The Captain of the Danish bark Psyche, which entered Rio, states that on the 1st of July, latitude 35 N., longitude 53 W., she met a steamer with an English flag, steering west, which he immediately changed for a white flag and having fired two shots, gave chase to the Psyche. The steamer was the Florida, and as the wind was fair the bark kept up her distance for over four hours, but at last she was overhauled by an officer from the steamer. On board the Florida there was the captain and crew of a burned brigantine, which the officer wanted the Psyche would take but which was declined with thanks.

NEW PAPER MONEY

Our readers will be amused to hear that some known individuals in the province of Corrientes are, in what they consider the free exercise of their inalienable democratic rights, commenced an unlimited issue of thin plates of Government paper money in the name of the Government. The first issue when he had heard of the matter looked up the books to see under what heading so heinous an offence could be classed, but failed to solve the difficulty, for the Government had issued paper money in question were driven to it by the total absence of small change in the locality where they lived.

The value which the new silver plates represented was one Bolivian real and half a bolivian real on bits of blue and red paper. As the issuers of these notes did not attempt to falsify the Corrientes bank notes, they could not be charged with forgery.

IMPORTANT FROM PAYSANDU

In our Uruguay exchanges received per Salto yesterday we read that a most sanguinary encounter has just taken place at Caracoles between the Government troops and a lot of rebels, resulting in the total defeat of the latter. The rebels were headed by a fellow named Bernabé; 19 of them were killed on the spot, including Bernabé, only one escaped of the whole gang.

MUTINY IN THE PACIFIC

The Valparaiso papers contain the following:—The British barque John Stevenson, arrived here on the 27th (May 7) from London, with only one captain, pilot two boys, and four passengers, the crew having mutinied when abreast of Crowland; they locked up the four passengers, tied down the pilot and one of the boys, handcuffed the captain, and lowered two boats, filling them with provisions and liquors, and abandoning the vessel. The other boy, who was not tied down, succeeded in releasing all on board, and the captain was able to reach port safely. The mail steamer Bogota brings news that the fugitives had landed near Lima, and as they sold a great deal of clothing, the authorities began to suspect them and arrested most of them, waiting for some information.

BOLIVIA

Dates from Cochabamba, May 28th. The Government and army arrived at Oruro on the 19th. A loan has been made in London, for 14 millions sterling at 88: interest 7 per cent.; security, the guano deposits and customs houses. Sr. Arce, late Minister at Asuncion and Buenos Ayres was authorized to offer a loan of one million sterling at 8 per cent. Next Congress is to be held at Cochabamba. General Agrota is candidate for the Presidency. Brazil has sent Sr. Boyes to arrange the frontier question.

SUGAR FALLING

On Saturday the cattle Bolivar was blocked up by a cart over the horse having fallen and some barrels of sugar burst, throwing its contents into the mud, just opposite Sr. Larrea's warehouse.

FOUR-SERVANTS WANTED

Estancia Santa Clara, La Paz, Entre Rios, July 12 1884.

Dear Sirs—I note in your impression for the sale of the cutting June 23, that the gentleman of La Paz had submitted your cotton and promised three or four quintals. I should much like to be acquainted with the party, if you can do so. I may glean a hint from him— I hope at least his crop is more successful than mine.

I should feel obliged if you would name to emigrants applying that I want a hand or two, either single men or I could take one with his wife—himself as man of all work at the 'homestead,' leaving the money to make himself generally useful in the house. I would provide them a sleeping room detached from the peon's quarters; if they have a boy 8 or 9 years old I would employ him also; a girl of that age I should object to—the wages per month with rations 12 bolivianos for the man 6 for the woman, and 6 for the boys. For young men I can give 12 bolivianos per month with rations as shepherds—I give natives only 10 per month, the current rate here. The passage up by steamer is 21 dollars, but doubtless the passage could be had by any of the numerous goletas up the Parana—and for any servants who staid with me for twelve months I would repay them half their passage money, even if for two years the whole. Knowing your interest in Irish arrivals I thus trouble you. Their characters should bear the scrutiny by the way, and a few lines to Sr. Don Juan Penos of La Paz from you would secure their direct conveyance to my place.

I will receive any parties you may send me within a reasonable time, the earlier the better I shall appreciate. I am, dear sirs, yours faithfully, A. R. AS

OLDEN BEEF

This controversy has taken a new phase, and Sr. Olden withdraws two statements of great importance, showing that in the hurry and vexation of the moment, he was not quite so careful as business men should be when their and their neighbors' interests are at stake. He assures us that Mr. Felipe Arana, who came forward so officiously to certify the report of Olden beef having been thrown aboard at Liverpool, was nowise authorized by him. Sr. Olden further denies that Mr. Eraben falsified his name at Rio Janeiro or elsewhere. It is surprising that he has allowed so many days to elapse without an explanation of this nature, but he declares his ignorance of English or of the controversy published in this paper about his beef. It appears the Messrs. Smith Brothers have at last ascertained his name, and his answer is to blame that we think that firm has a perfect right to demand of him the publication of the private letter on which he bases his apology. The matter should be made clear, for the interest of all parties, and the sake of truth. His communication is as follows:

Buenos Ayres, July 18th, 1884. To the Editors of the Standard, Gentlemen:—In your paper of yesterday I read a letter from Messrs. Smith, Brothers & Co., calling on me for explanations about my letter of the 8th inst., in reply to the unjust attacks against me. Out of regard for truth I must say that on making full enquiries I found myself partially in error. The circular mentions no names, and the letter translated for me does not say who was the preparer of the Montevideo beef in question, nor that Messrs. Smith Brothers bought it, but merely that their house shipped it. A clerk of the same house informed me on the 10th, that it was Sr. Eraben who had sent the beef which was thrown aboard at Liverpool. Begging you will accept this explanation, I remain, etc., THOMAS P. OLDEN.

New York Commercial Report

There has been a general stagnation in business during the month, and importers find great difficulty in replacing large parcels of merchandise at any price satisfactory to the market. Since the Army of the Potomac began to move, buyers have shown but little anxiety to purchase, but being of the opinion that if General Grant was successful there would be a decline in gold, which would enable importers to sell their goods at lower prices than they are now asking. The news that he had reached up to the present time from the Army of the Potomac shows that Lee makes a desperate and stubborn resistance, but Grant has pushed his own advance on towards Richmond, after some ten days severe fighting, which commenced on the 5th inst. The losses in killed and wounded on both sides have been frightfully great. We are momentarily expecting news of a renewal of the conflict. General Butler has penetrated to within eight miles of Richmond, and has already had some fighting with General Beauregard in Georgia. General Sherman has been successful in his engagements with the rebel General Johnson. No definite results are announced as the fruits of all the late army movements but the Government assures us everything is going on successfully and satisfactorily, and are confident of a successful campaign in Virginia.

NEWS FROM THE RIVER

The Legislature has passed a law making the Maua Bank bill a legal tender. The Ten Thousand Dollars Subvention had been received in Concepcion, and the amount of a new public employment in Georgia. General Sherman in Gualquany a meeting had been held for the purpose of establishing a branch of the Entre Riano Bank. All the capital required is two thousand ounces. In Gualquaychu Don Victoriano Garcia had called a meeting about the construction of a new bridge over the Every Partida in the Province was quiet, and people intent on agricultural pursuits.

The 'Perzo Carril' of Rosario has a leading article on the prejudicial conduct of the Government, in trying to circulate Buenos Ayres paper money in the provinces.

There is no money in circulation, and it appears that there is the most decided animosity, on the part of the provinces, to receive these paper dollars, which is nobody's business.

There are no ships, consequently we have no charters, the shipbrokers declining to make imaginary charters, or pretend to do a great business, like our friends the auction brokers.
