WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1864.

ADVERTISERS. The Mercury leaves to-day, and takes a very heavy mail.

The Paraguay steamer, Salto de Guayras, arrived yesterday from Asuncion.

The balloon boy was the great talk of town yesterday. He was followed by crowds wherever he went.

A robbery took place on Monday night, in the house of the Juez de Paz, in Calle Suipacha, No. 70.

One of the most efficient police officers in this city, the very man who arrested the forgers in San Fernando.

Mr. Chassaigne, the editor of the 'Papel,' who has been resident for that paper, at least so the 'Tribuna' states.

The Calvete letter was yesterday the order of the day in Congress; the weekly or daily 'Standard' has been his insulting letter to Senator Pincro.

Mr. Chassaigne is thinking of coming to reside amongst us, and the rumor is that he will take up his abode in the southern extremity of the city.

The latest novelty about town is that General Urquiza is thinking of coming to reside amongst us.

Without wishing in the least to injure the landed proprietors, we think it right to caution our newly arrived friends from purchasing too hastily.

We hope our country readers will not forget to subscribe to the United States Sanitary Commission fund.

The proposed trip of Governor Saavedra through the camp districts is flatly contradicted by several parties.

There is an extraordinary rumor about town to the effect that a partial election is going on in the camp.

A spirited Englishman, who has just arrived from Entre Rios, called upon us yesterday to request we would enroll him as a member of the Foreign Reading Society.

the honor in an instant, in the true Dublin style. We hope some more of his countrymen will follow his example.

The Englishman of the name of Mayno, who committed such atrocious crimes with regard to his informant.

The Santa Fe Legislature has approved of the loan effected by the Government with the Baron Maas, for the purchase of arms.

The Municipality we hear offers to wage $20,000 on Mr. Wells' going up next Sunday and coming down in the paratroch.

The great Bilbao and Gutierrez argument is at last brought to a close, much to the satisfaction of the subscribers of the 'Nacion Argentina.'

Several very wealthy American gentlemen arrived in Buenos Ayres last week, for the purpose of buying estates in Santa Fe.

ARTICLES FOR THE PARIS EXHIBITION.

No. 11. Three figures of persons buried alive (accidentally) last year. For greater interest they are dressed in the identical clothes they wore when the several fatal mistakes occurred.

No. 12. Patent new conveyance, for use in the suburbs during winter. It differs little from the ordinary coach, except being so constructed that the wheels come off in heavy rain, strongly reminding nervous people of a 'block.'

No. 13. A portrait by Verazzi, Sig. Cuneo, of Genoa, is represented as the headman at Mary Stuart's execution. In another part of the hall, 'General Urquiza,' by the same artist, is to be sold by lottery at 3 francs.

No. 14. Camera Obscura. A model of the Buenos Ayres Camera de Justicia, remarkable for the obscurity of its procedure and of the members composing it.

No. 15. Antediluvian fossils. An antique shield of the Incas before Alzham (falsely asserted to be a potato), discovered by Mr. Charles Murray in an old wall of Peru. Also a bone (perforated at one end, and not unlike a tooth-brush) found by Mr. Wuisberg on digging the foundations of Pueblo Mitre.

No. 16. Wonderful turp. This vegetable grew in the Monjes garden. It has letters H. I., supposed to be the President's initials, but these may be otherwise explained.

No. 17. Fire engine 'Great Central Argentine.' The country town being formerly much exposed to conflagrations, this is warranted to get the flames under in a remarkably short space of time.

No. 18. Album of an Absent Friend containing the signatures of Louis Blanc, Charles Fourier, Karl Marx, and others.

No. 19. Land-lass of the Republic, edited by Dr. Sarsfield and nicely bound in calf, 320 volumes; containing all the laws on the subject of public lands, with an index for students.

No. 20. The Osa-house. A model of this remarkable institution, which has never declared a dividend in five years of existence, and yet the shares are at a high premium.

The British Minister's protocol on the 'Sultans' claims has again been laid before Congress by order of the President.

The 'Plata' states that the inhabitants of Alsen, in Denmark, are very fond of playing ajouje; we always thought it was distinctively an Argentine amusement.

The 'Liberal' of Tucuman gives an amusing account of the indignities and insults offered to Major Alfaro.

When Deloya seized the city of Salta on June 10th, Alfaro and his associates managed to escape, and took the road for Tucuman; but he was recognized and arrested at Punto Metan.

The objection to the re-consideration of the bill and a group of articles 71 of the Constitution, which provided that any bill once totally rejected, shall not be introduced again during the same year.

The opposition made this time would certainly reflect more credit on the crafty talents of a party opposing a pleader than the honest legislation of a free and enlightened republic.

The objection to the re-consideration of the bill and a group of articles 71 of the Constitution, which provided that any bill once totally rejected, shall not be introduced again during the same year.

Whatever the merits of the claim may be, there can be no reasonable objection urged for referring it to arbitration.

We are happy to see that our colleagues take a just view of the matter; and, indeed, it cannot be denied, that if the members of the Argentine Congress were guided by the principles of their constituents, there would be less of that excessive style of argument which characterizes the debates in Congress.

It will be hardly credited by our readers, that the Deputies who raised the technical objection to the constitution of the protocol, are not from the desert plains of Rioja, or the distant provinces of San Juan, or Santiago del Estero, but from the capital.

All the evils which attend democratic Governments, spring from the intemperate and indiscreet legislation of the representatives of the people.

On Thursday night the citizens were aroused by a salute of four cannon shots fired from a pilot boat in the harbor.

The Spanish war vessels have arranged a regatta, to come off between the 'Santos' crews. It would seem they have not received orders for the Pacific.

Colonel Gabito writes from Iala, 21st inst., stating that he has received reinforcements, that no rebels had shown themselves in Canelon Grande, but bands of forgers had over-run Tala and Santa Lery.

The Brazilian brigantine 'Tolerancia,' from Montevideo to Rio, with a cargo of jerked beef, belonging to Messrs. Conzeaco, was totally lost on the 19th, off Castillos. The Captain reached Castillos in safety, and it is thought the crew was also saved.

The feast of St. Vincent de Paul was kept with great solemnity on Sunday, at the Matriz Church, Doctor V. Conde pronouncing the Saint's panegyric.

Messrs. Perez, Correa & Puig have received permission from Government to build a wharf 60 feet long into the bay, for the purpose of unloading the cargo of the Galea, north end, but is not to interfere with the boulevard projected by the Municipality.

The English pilot-boat 'Foam' left yesterday for the Falkland Islands. It is very surprising to hear some one in the Falklands does not write us now and then how they are going on.

There was a general dissatisfaction about the Osa, the Municipality of Montevideo, and the Municipal Council, committees whose labors seem to have ended in smoke.

The commercial firm of Reissig and Martinez was dissolved on the 20th inst.

who hurled stones and filth at him, and booted him the whole way to prison, the procession being headed by a band of fellows in Carnival dress.

The Buenos Ayrean press condemns such rude treatment, yet we think it a decided imprisonment on the old plan of killing the prisoners right off—a matter looked on with indifference by our very humane and sensitive colleagues.

More about Hermannsader. Messrs. Mackera have been 'let in for $1700 mps.' It seems the doctor's range was universal, and besides Messrs. Cranwell, Eastman, Roeber, Gonzalez, Vidale, Bell, &c., he levied contributions of several persons whose names have not transpired.

Among the commissions entrusted to him at Fortin de Arco, was to have a 'souvenir d'amour' enclosed in a gold locket, for which he was furnished with $200.

He is said to have invited an American friend to dine with him at the Hotel de Paris, a few days before leaving, and by inadvertence the friend had to pay the hotel bill, as another had done twice before.

We are happy to say that the 'victims,' so far from enquiring into these frauds, out of late delicacy, have ordered several hundred portraits of the doctor in 'cartes de visite,' which will be sent to Rio, Bordeaux, Paris, London and New York, together with printed narratives of his exploits here.

The Paraguay steamer arrived yesterday with the 'Semanario' from Asuncion, 16th inst. Great progress is observed in all branches of industry.

Twelve young men belonging to the army have devoted themselves to electroplating. The telegraph agent Mr. von Fischer, has chosen six youths for his department; after due instruction they will be able to take charge of the several stations now projected, and work the wires.

There was a General meeting of the Club on the 4th inst. and the following members were elected: Treasurer D. Antonio Esquer (Spaniard); Directors D. Adolfo Saguier & D. Felix Llorza (Paraguayans), D. Estevan Chassaigne (Argentine); Substitute, D. Emilio Neuman (German).

The weather was very cloudy, but the frost had not yet begun. The new section of railway from Piray to Cerro Leon is not yet open; the trains run twice a week from Asuncion to the former place, making the trip in two hours.

Experiments have been made with a gun of 60 barrels. The steamer Paraguari was put on the stocks and repaired, and is again afloat.

The celebration of the 19th inst. in honor of the Argentine Republic, and the adjournment of the Legislature, and several received decorations on the arrival of each new contingent at the encampment of Cerro Leon.

A batch of convicts was transported per Ypora on the 4th, to the penal settlements on the river Paraguay. The Paraguari in her last trip took to Asuncion a large invoice of hardware and fire arms.

The solemnities and rejoicings at Asuncion in preparation for the 24th inst. the President's birthday promised to be very brilliant.

Netto, nobody knows anything at all about him. His walking scheme is not believed in Montevideo. Things are very quiet in the camp.

We received a private letter from the Mount yesterday with rather important news. President Aguirre has at last reached Moreno's army, somewhere in the vicinity of Paso de Coello, Santa Lucia Grande.

Floris is said to be in the town of Minas, and has put all the shopkeepers under contribution for calicos, etc. The girls in the town have busy making shirts and calzonillos for the soldiers.

The 'Tribuna' has frequently called the attention of the Legislature to the bill Mr. Guinza introduced last session, but it would appear the legislators are deaf to the patriotic calls of the king of the press; this should not be so, unless indeed they think the country would be ruined by giving away ninety leagues of land.

Supposing there were two or three bits of ninety leagues each given for nothing and settled on, all the rest inside, and that ten leagues outside all round would be then saleable, consequently the donation would be a good speculation in a commercial sense. At present there is in the hands of the Indians, nominally belonging to this province, an extent of territory three hundred leagues long (from the Laguna Nahuelhuapi to Fortin Mercedes) one hundred and fifty leagues wide in many places.

This immense tract of land does not add one dollar to the exchequer, and indirectly costs the provincial exchequer. A strip of land given for nothing would be an immense gain not only to the National Government, but especially to this province, inasmuch as the stock now in the province and its increase would remain here, but if it continued reduced to its present radius, this province will stock Santa Fe and Cordoba as it has already stocked (with sheep) the Banda Oriental.

Every flock of sheep or herd of cattle that crosses the Arroyo del Medio is a loss to this province, but not so to the nation. Why then not endeavor to keep in the province what will be profitable to the province? If Buenos Ayres cannot compete with the bordering provinces in affording the laborers the same inducements, certainly will leave Buenos Ayres and go to enrich the other provinces. They went to the Banda Oriental in consequence of the high price of land here, although they had to undergo an expense of from ten to twenty dollars a head for freight of sheep, with an almost certain prospect of losing ten per cent of their stock; if people were induced to cross the river and undergo this heavy expense, it is not natural to suppose they will go in great numbers to the bordering provinces where they have no freight to pay. As such, it is the duty of the Govt. to keep them here by offering the same inducements: cheap land and an easy method of acquiring it. If I mistake not, the present minister was one of the committee who recommended the passing of the Bill, slightly modified, last session; if he has not changed his opinion on its merits, he should call the attention of his friends in parliament to it; a little energy on his part, and a few spirited stirring leaders in the 'Tribuna,' might rouse the members to a sense of duty.

Dicé.

National Finance Minister and our enlightened legislators to effectively ruin every merchant and trader in Buenos Ayres.

By far the most important business done on 'Change to-day was the sale of Mr. Ninian Johnston's wool for the coming clip at $117 per acre.

Since the arrival of the last packet there has been increased animation in our wool market, and lots of second and third class wool have been disposed at a slight advance of prices.

Corvato wool is not so much looked for at present, owing to the reasons above stated, the only sales of importance during the last fortnight have been 300 bales at 44 ris.

There are some who are of opinion that the wool market will be remarkably firm to-day. Patrons opened at 28 85, and closed at 29.
